Some Walk, Some Talk, Some Go

(Other stories, pictures, on pages 10 and 11.)

In rallies, marches and fund-raising efforts, the people of Marin turned out by the thousands during the weekend to support the right of southern Negroes to the vote.

Hundreds attended rallies at the courthouse in San Rafael on Saturday and at College of Marin yesterday. A throng estimated by the California Highway Patrol at between 800 and 1,000 paraded across the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday. They were joined in San Francisco by hundreds of other marchers, from as far away as San Jose, for a torchlight rally.

Some of them — principally men of the cloth — will go to Selma, Ala., to join in person the marches there of Negroes seeking the vote.

CARRY TOMBSTONES

Many carried placards in the parades and at the rallies, and some of them carried make-believe tombstones and coffins. For they have a martyr: Rev. James J. Reeb, a Unitarian minister from Boston, who was beaten to death by white racists after joining in a parade at Selma last Wednesday.

There was no violence at the demonstrations here.

Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol had 250 officers on hand — drawn from patrol units all the way from Santa Rosa to San Jose — in case of an outbreak during the march across the Golden Gate Bridge. The officers were stationed at intervals across the span, closing one lane to automobile traffic in case the marchers surged off the sidewalk into the traffic lanes. But none did.

MOTORISTS SLOW

Only difficulty was caused by motorists, not by the marchers. Many southbound drivers slowed to shout greetings or comments ("of all kinds," Parnow commented) to those in the line of march. The result was a two-hour traffic slow-up as the long line moved across the bridge, beginning yesterday noon.

Among the marchers — as among the throngs at the rallies — were clergymen of many faiths. It is from their ranks that the pilgrims to Selma will mostly come.

BISHOP SPEAKS

The role of the clergy in the battle for civil rights for Negroes was given its most emotional expression yesterday by Bishop James J. Pike of the Episcopal Diocese of California, in speeches at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael and at the torchlight rally in San Francisco.

Bishop Pike, who went to Alabama last week to participate in demonstrations there, told the San Rafael congregation:

"If they want Christian martyrs, we will give them Christian martyrs.

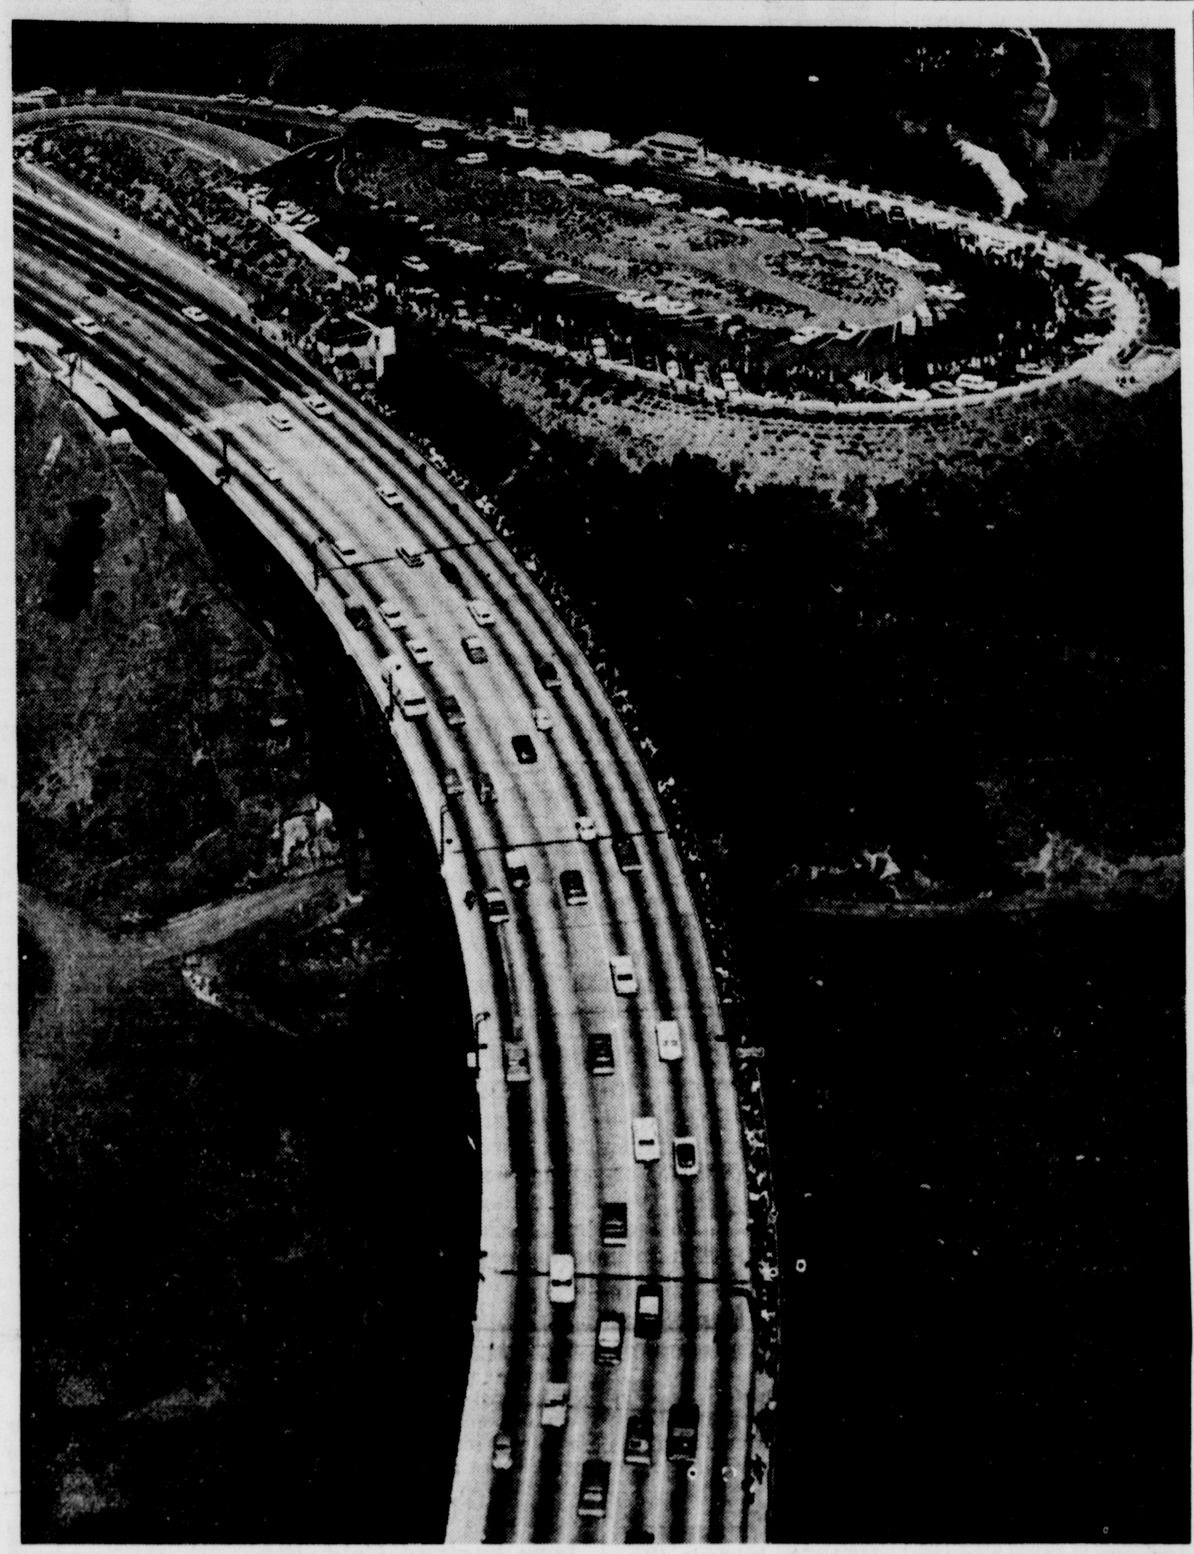

"If they want to use bullwhips, rifles or tear gas, we will give them all the Christians they want."

Now is the time, he declared, for good Christian people to make the sacrifice for Christ's principles. And Selma, Ala., is the place to do it.

At the San Francisco rally in the Civic Center, Bishop Pike asked God to "stiffen the spine of the President of the United States" so he can cope with the racial problems in Alabama. And he declared that if the police of Selma create violence, "the blood is on the hands of the President of the United States."

Bishop Pike will return to Alabama Wednesday, on a plane especially chartered by the Episcopal Diocese. Among those

'SELMA MARCH'—ON GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE—Marchers are strung out across Golden Gate Bridge and in loop around Vista Point parking lot as they begin parade in behalf of southern Negroes denied voting rights. The march to a San Francisco Civic Center rally took some two hours. It slowed bridge traffic but caused no trouble for 250 California Highway Patrol officers who were stationed along line of march. Patrol kept one traffic lane clear. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax, from helicopter furnished by American Helicopters, Novato.)

Negroes Line Up For Registration

Troopers Halt Plan To March

SELMA, Ala. (UPI) — Negroes were allowed to line up at the Dallas County Courthouse today to register to vote, but sheriff's possemen and state troopers halted an attempt by 550 demonstrators to stage a civil rights march at the same time.

The attempted march came a short time after a wooden sawhorse barricade that the demonstrators had dubbed the "Selma Wall" was removed from a Selma street by Wilson Baker, Selma's director of public safety.

CARRY CLUBS

The marchers, many of them white ministers, priests and nuns, began from the Negro First Methodist Church but were stopped at the site of the barricade by Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County and his possemen, who were armed and carried clubs.

After several speeches and "freedom" song singing, the group broke up and retured to the church, leaving only a token group of 50 demonstrators to hold the line at the site of the barricade.

REGISTRATION DAY

Baker took down the barrier at 7 a.m., saying "Today is voter registration day. If they want to go down and register they can."

Baker quickly moved city police in front of Clark's posse, and it moved to one side.

The demonstrators wanted to go to the courthouse to protest the slaying of the Rev. James J. Reeb, a white minister who was fatally beaten in Selma last Tuesday.

At the courthouse, about 75 Negroes got into line to register to vote. A federal court has ordered accelerated voter registration.

Baker told the marchers over a loud speaker that "no place on earth" would permit such a demonstration.

"I call on you to disperse, but I will not arrest you—don't get your hopes up," he said.

Rev. C. T. Vivian conferred briefly with Baker, then picked up a loud speaker and told the group to go to the church.

CRANSTON SAYS

Brown Will Run For Third Term

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston revealed today that Gov. Brown had decided definitely to seek a third term as California chief executive.

Cranston said the governor told him during a meeting last week that he had "flatly and irrevocably decided to run for a third term."

The controller said he was revealing Brown's decision in an "effort to clear the air of confusion over the governor's political plans."

Cranston also stated that he believed the recent clash with Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh over the transfer of state funds "had stiffened the governor's decision to seek the third term."

Brown has hinted to newsmen on several occasions that he would run again, but refuses to make a definite announcement "until the first snow falls on the Sierra Nevada."

The governor's term ends in 1966.

Cranston also denied today that he had any intention of becoming a candidate for lieutenant governor.

"My only thought now," he said, "is to seek re-election to my current post."

Crime Is Ruled Out In Funds Transfer

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sacramento County Dist. Atty. John Price ruled today that no crime was committed in a disputed transfer of state funds that sparked a bitter feud between Gov. Brown and Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh.

The governor quickly issued a statement calling on the legislature to discover what motives were behind the original charge and to decide "whether some further formal apology ought to be forthcoming."

Price said his office investigated the matter thoroughly and has determined "that no crime was committed. I consider the matter closed insofar as this office is concerned."

Assembly Rules Committee Chairman James R. Mills, D-San Diego, charged last week he had found "apparent crime" in the transfer of funds from one function to another within the State Public Health Department.

Price said today that the questioned $32,000 transfer "was legally done so within the framework of the budget act."

The law enforcement official also cleared Jack Halpin, former chief deputy director of finance of any part in the matter.

"I have determined that Halpin's function was exclusively in planning with the Department and he had no connection whatsoever with the budget operations of the Department either in planning budgets or in their audit."

Halpin, a Democrat who is seeking a State Senate seat in a special election in the 5th District, said his name had been brought into the squabble for political purposes.

The governor today said the legislature should determine whether the "responsibility for what happened does not extend beyond Mr. Mills."

Brown also called on the lawmakers to determine "exactly what events led to this strange deviation from custom and principle by persons — including staff — who are responsible to the membership of this honorable body."

Marine Dies In Mistake Viet Firing

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Marine Corps officers "stomped the line" around the big American airbase at Da Nang today, emphasizing safety procedures. One Marine was killed and another seriously wounded Sunday night in a tragic case of "shooting at shadows."

The casualties were the first since the 3,500-man Marine expeditionary force dug in to protect the base against Communist infiltrators.

The Marines were shot by an edgy buddy as they were returning from a patrol to investigate noises. The Marine took his comrades for Communist intruders and opened fire with his M14 automatic rifle.

One of the wounded men died early today. A second was in critical condition following abdominal surgery and a massive transfusion involving 26 pints of blood. The third received a superficial head wound.

Thousands Gather Across The Nation

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

In shock and in sorrow, tens of thousands of Americans gathered yesterday to mourn the plight of the Negro and the death of a white minister who gave his life for brotherhood.

In some places, the words came slowly and softly: "We have a share in the suffering and struggles of those ... who have given not only their goods and efforts, but life itself."

In other places, the words came quickly, and full of anger: "As long as you have your foot on the black man's neck and think he won't stand up, you are wrong."

In almost all places, they spoke with sympathy of Negro attempts to win voting rights in Selma, Ala. And they mourned the death of the Rev. James Reeb, the white minister from Boston who "couldn't stay home." He was beaten to death on a Selma street by other white men.

More than 25,000 persons marched on historic Boston Common yesterday, some wearing black arm bands, some singing quietly as they walked.

In New York, nuns joined blacks and whites together in a parade through the streets of Harlem. Up front with the leaders was Nathan Schwerner, whose son, Michael, was one of three civil rights workers killed in Mississippi last summer. The crowd was estimated at between 10,000 and 20,000.

Fifteen thousand persons gathered in front of the White House to protest "racial injustice in Alabama." They listened to brief speeches by civil rights leaders and drifted away singing "we shall overcome."

Across the nation, from New England to the California coast, thousands more met in the streets, on courthouse steps and in churches to express their concern.

Yank Jets Bomb Red Ammo Dump

SAIGON (UPI) — More than 100 U.S. fighter bombers today blasted a huge Communist ammunition supply area in North Viet Nam only 100 miles from Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital.

The planes — most of them from U.S. Navy aircraft carriers — flew deep into North Vietnamese territory to hammer the Phu Qui ammunition dump with bombs and rockets.

The 100-square mile Communist arms and supply area is 180 miles north of the border.

A U.S. spokesman said the raid was the most successful the United States has had.

There was an unconfirmed report that one Navy propeller-driven plane crashed in the sea near its carrier.

Private Club Approved For Ranch Site

Use of the historic Burdell Ranch, north of Novato, for a private recreation club was recommended for approval today by the Marin County Planning Commission.

Commissioners unanimously approved recreational use on a 20-acre parcel including the adobe house, one of the first in the North Bay area and location of a skirmish during the Bear Flag Rebellion.

The 760-acre ranch, west of Highway 101, was sold last November to a group of about 50 investors at a price in excess of one million dollars.

University of San Francisco, which has been leasing the facilities, is scheduled to leave within two weeks.

The plans for recreational use include a clubhouse with a pool and possibly tennis courts, a

LBJ To Speak On Voter Bill To Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson goes before Congress and the nation tonight to outline the voting rights measure he hopes will correct "a deep and very unjust flaw in American democracy."

Johnson accepted an invitation from congressional leaders to make an extraordinary appearance before a joint session of the House and Senate at 9 p.m. EST. Major television and radio networks planned live coverage of the event.

Johnson's dramatic decision to take his case to Congress and the nation underscored the gravity with which he views the current civil rights crisis in Alabama.

Johnson announced at a Saturday news conference that he would ask Congress to wipe out all discriminatory barriers to Negro voting and substitute a single, uniform standard for easy voter registration.

The proposals, hammered out by Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach and Senate leaders of both parties during the past week, would affect immediately 500 counties in the South where Negroes have been denied the right to ballot.

The voting rights measure is expected to contain three principal features:

A ban on discriminatory county and state literacy tests.

Appointment of federal registrars to assure that qualified voters are allowed to ballot in local, state and federal elections where local officials refuse to register applicants.

Stiff new federal criminal penalties against local officials, including police or state troopers, who use force, coercion or discriminatory devices to deny eligible persons the right to register and vote.

Wallace Promises To Heed Judge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) —Gov. George B. Wallace said Sunday that if a federal court orders the state of Alabama not to interfere with Negroes on a projected march from Selma to the state capital he will ask that the order be obeyed.

"I'll ask the people of the state to help see that it (the march) takes place peacefully," Wallace said on a nationally televised interview.

He appeared on CBS — Face The Nation.

But Wallace indicated he will take no actions to smooth tensions in racially torn Selma and other points in Alabama as suggested to him by President Johnson. He said the first step in any such action would be for Negroes to end demonstrations, now in the eighth week in his state.

He conceded, however, "I don't think anything we can do in Alabama can stop these demonstrations."

A federal court is now holding hearings on an application by Negroes for an injunction to stop state interference with "freedom" marches.

Wallace's state troopers broke up an announced Selma-to-Montgomery march last Sunday with tear gas and billy clubs in which more than 60 persons were injured or fell ill.

In describing the action by the troopers, Wallace said he had ordered the troopers to use a "minimum of force" and defended their actions. There were widespread reports, however, that he would fire Col. Al Lingo, his highway patrol chief, as a result of the melee that drew protests from across the nation.

A spokesman for Wallace deyesterday that if a federal court nied last night that Lingo had been fired.

Wallace said the troopers' action is under investigation.

"I won't be stampeded into making charges against my police because people charge them with brutality," he said.

Wire Service Denies Distortions On Dixie

NEW YORK (UPI) — A spokesman for United Press International said Sunday the UPI stands behind the accuracy of its correspondents in reporting events of racial unrest in Alabama.

Gov. George Wallace of Alabama yesterday attacked television networks and United Press International for "misleading statements."

As a "typical" example of distortion, Wallace cited a UPI dispatch of Feb. 26 which quoted a Roman Catholic nun as saying that Jimmy Lee Jackson, fatally shot in a melee in Marion several weeks ago, was refused admittance to a hospital because he was a Negro.

Wallace said that Sister Michael Ann had described the quotation as "simply not the truth."

A spokesman for UPI said that following Wallace's attack the agency had asked Sister Michael Ann by telephone yesterday whether she wished to deny the accuracy of the quotation in the Feb. 26 dispatch.

Sister Michael Ann replied, "At the advice of our attorney, I do not wish to make a statement at this time."

The UPI spokesman said that in addition to reporter Al Kuettner, who wrote the dispatch, another UPI staffer, Phil Sandlin, also heard the statements.

The UPI dispatch also quoted Sister Michael Ann as saying there had been a delay of about three hours before Jackson finally was brought into surgery for an emergency operation at Good Samaritan at about 1:20 a.m. on Feb. 18.

From July 1961 to June 1965 in the Atlantic alone, satellites detected 10 storms and tracked 18 others.

Top University Officials Drop Plans To Quit

Kerr, Meyerson Still In Command; Dispute Unsettled

BERKELEY (AP) — Clark Kerr was still president of the 65,000-student University of California today after an apparent victory in a showdown with the Board of Regents over student discipline.

But, regents appeared still divided on how swiftly and strongly unconforming students should be disciplined.

Kerr, 53-year-old former labor negotiator who knows the art of dickering, and acting chancellor Martin Meyerson withdrew their threat of resignations Saturday after a 5½-hour, closed-door emergency session with regents.

DOOR STILL OPEN

The educators, however, left the door open. Their announcement said they had decided to continue "pending further discussions with the Board of Regents."

Presumably these "further discussions" will climax the regular March 25-26 regents' meeting.

CAUSE OF IT ALL

It was a barefoot youth carrying a placard with a shocking four-letter sex word on it who triggered events that nearly toppled the administration of one of the nation's biggest universities.

John J. Thomson, 23-year-old non-student with a Beatle-like haircut, claimed his obscenity crusade was an extension of free speech.

MORE ARRESTS

Nine persons—including three students—were arrested March 4 for following Thomson's lead —diplaying or speaking four-letter words on the Berkeley campus.

The president and acting chancellor agreed the student must be disciplined.

There was pressure from some regents for swift action. Students and a faculty investigating committee of the Academic Senate wanted the slower "due process" procedure followed.

Such earlier demands had resulted in last fall's demonstrations. There had been sit-ins, massive rallies, the arrests of 773 demonstrators and the departure of Dr. Edward W. Strong, Meyerson's predecessor, an advocate of strong discipline, on sick leave.

Calling an impromptu news conference, Kerr and Meyerson announced last Tuesday they would resign. But, they did not submit resignations.

Everyone at last Saturday's conference agreed that the "filthy speech movement" was deplorable. But the question of discipline went unsolved.

'Pensioner' Takes An Outing

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev returned to obscurity today with only a comparative handful of the Soviet Union's 228 million people aware of their former leader's first public appearance since he fell from power five months ago.

Slightly more than 100 Russians saw Khrushchev yesterday as he met his wife at their new Moscow apartment, drove to a polling booth near the Kremlin to vote in local elections, then drove off, presumably to his country home outside the capital.

Asked how he felt, he replied: "Like a pensioner—not bad, not bad."

De Gaulle Gains In Balloting

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle's government emerged strongly today from nationwide local elections in a significant test of popularity.

The administration claimed to have held its ground everywhere and almost certainly to have won one of the nation's top political plums—control of the Paris city council.

Minister of Interior Roger Frey said elsewhere in France the voting showed "extraordinary political stability" with no major upsets or landslides in either direction.

AIRMEN RESCUED IN CLIFF CLIMB

Sunday Outing Results In Being Stuck On Face Of Cliff At McClure's Beach

Two Hamilton Air Force Base enlisted men spent more than three hours on a narrow ledge halfway up a 300-foot cliff near McClure's Beach Saturday before they were rescued by county firemen and sheriff's deputies.

A/3c Craig Johnson, 20, and A/3c Fred Shaw, 24, were unhurt when they were pulled to the top with ropes at 9:30 p.m.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said the airmen were in a party of four who parked their car at McClure's Beach early in the afternoon and began walking north.

After they had gone two miles, Johnson and Shaw decided to climb. Their companions—A/3c Skeetie Hanssen Sherman, 22 and A/3c Dennis R. Dungan, 20—elected to stay below.

The two climbers got within 50 feet of the top of the cliff, they later recalled, but could not make it the rest of the way. They started to go back down, but at mid-point discovered they could no longer maintain a footing going either direction.

They began to yell for help. Two unidentified passers-by heard them and went to nearby McClure's Ranch, where ranch owner David McClure called the Coast Guard.

The emergency message then made a rapid circle from the Coast Guard to the Marin County sheriff's office to the county first substation at Point Reyes Station.

At 6:14 p.m. five firemen, three deputies and Bloom went to the scene and erected the fire department's emergency A-frame and winch at the top of the cliff.

Fireman Howard Lee was first to be lowered to the ledge. He held the two frightened youths steady until Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Bertrand and fireman Wesley Campigli could descend on other ropes.

Johnson and Shaw were then raised, one at a time, to a point near the top from which all five were pulled on up.

Supervisors Due Lot-Split Plan At Meeting

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will have a hearing on proposed revision of the county's lot-split ordinance at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

Supervisors passed the present ordinance on an emergency basis last October and asked the county planning commission to review it.

The ordinance requires improvements such as curbs and gutters when parcels of land are divided into fewer than four lots. The county subdivision ordinance covers division into four or more lots.

The planning commission has recommended a milder ordinance that leaves it up to the planning director to determine what improvements shall be required.

Insult Plus Injury

Vandals broke his car antenna and rear-view mirror, then draped toilet tissue over his car last week, John T. Coy of 251 Richardson Drive, Strawberry, told sheriff's deputies Friday.

Cement Mixer Taken

STEWART ALSOP
To lecture at college

Alsop Sets Report On Washington

Stewart Alsop, Washington editor for the Saturday Evening Post, will give a "Report From Washington" Wednesday, at 8 p.m. in the College of Marin gymnasium.

The talk is part of the college's Concert-Lecture Series and is open to the public free.

Alsop has been in journalism since his graduation from Yale University in 1936. In 1945 he joined with his brother Joseph Alsop to write the New York Herald-Tribune Syndicate column, "Matter of Fact." It was carried in the Independent-Journal among other newspapers. In 1958 Stewart Alsop joined the Saturday Evening Post staff as national affairs contributing editor. He was appointed Washington editor in 1962.

Marin Ex-Coed To Go On Stage

Buffy Ford of 825 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, veteran member of the Festival Theater, has signed a one-year contract with singer Johnny Mathis' touring company, the Young Americans.

A former College of Marin student, Miss Ford will join the 18-member company of young singers and dancers on its tour of Europe, parts of Asia and major cities in the Midwest and on the East Coast.

She enrolled at the American Academy of Dance in Hollywood last fall. After the year's tour, Miss Ford plans to return to San Anselmo to complete her college work and rejoin the Festival Theater.

Kuchel, Murphy Votes Recorded

California's two U.S. senators, Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy, voted against each other in recent roll calls on the extension of the Arms Control and Disarmament Act.

Murphy voted for a committee amendment rejecting President Johnson's request for a four-year, $55 million extension of the act. Kuchel voted against the committee amendment. The committee amendment was approved 50 to 38.

Then, Kuchel voted for a $20 million, two-year extension of the Arms Control and disarmament Act, and Murphy voted against it. The measure passed 74 to 11.

CONCERT REVIEW

Brass Instruments Feature Of Bach To Mozart Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Distinctive in last night's final concert in the fifth annual Bach to Mozart series at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley was the featuring of brass instruments.

Though soprano Carole Bogard and baritone Edgar Jones —superlative interpreters of the baroque vocal style—and oboist Ray Duste contributed as usual much of the finest music of the evening, the baroque French horn played by Edward Haug and trumpets played by Haug and Charles Bubb made this concert different.

Manfredini's Concerto for Two Trumpets and Strings was outstanding not only for the brilliant trumpet work of Haug and Bubb but for some of the finest string ensemble playing in the program.

The golden tone of the baroque French horn made a beautiful obbligato with Jones's rich baritone in the aria from Handel's "Julius Caesar," but there were a few notes on the horn that were not precise and clear.

Carole Bogard and Jones made a fine duo in two duets and chorale from J. S. Bach's Cantata 140 ("Sleepers Wake"), but each was heard to better advantage in solos. J. S. Bach's Cantata 202 ("Wedding") was the perfect vehicle for her seemingly effortless coloratura, and Jones was excellent in the "Julius Caesar" aria and "Singet Dem Herrn" by Schuetz.

Ray Duste's innate musicality and technical command of the oboe were impressive in the Bach numbers and in the Trio Sonata in C Minor by George Philipp Telemann. The latter was marked by a wonderfully wall balanced blend of Duste's oboe, Frank Hauser's violin and Ellen Dessler's cello, together with the harpsichord playing of Margaret Fabrizio, who provided the continuo throughout the concert.

Other members of the ensemble adding much to the sonorous texture were Linn Subotnick, viola; Ruggiero Pelosi, violin and Carl Modell, bass.

The concert will be repeated today at 8 at Brown's Hall. Almost every seat was filled last night by an enthusiastic audience.

The final concert in the chamber music series sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club will be presented on April 3 by the Danzi Woodwind Quintet from Holland.

Novato Youths In 'Rumble' With Carnival Hands

Two carnival employees were the victims of a "rumble" outside the Hi-Fi Drive Inn on Mirabella Avenue, Novato, early yesterday.

Police said they spotted 30 or more youths gathered in the area. Six patrol cars converged on the scene, and most of the crowd left quickly.

Treated at Novato General Hospital was Robert C. Beldon, 21, of Vallejo. He suffered a bruised left eye and a sprained shoulder. Also hurt, but not taken to the hospital, was Robert W. Fitzgerald, 18, of South San Francisco.

Police said the injured men, with a carnival now in Novato, declined to press charges against their assailants.

with him on the flight will be Rev. John Riley and Rev. Kenneth Anderson of St. Paul's Episcopal Church and Rev. Richard Beaumont of the Church of the Redeemer, San Rafael; Rev. John Thornton of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito; Rev. James H. Blundell of the Church of the Nativity, Marinwood, and Rev. Llewellyn A. White of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Belvedere.

Rev. Samuel L. Banks, Negro pastor of Village Baptist Church in Marin City, and Douglas J. Quiett of Tiburon, chairman of the Marin Congress of Racial Equality, plan to leave tonight for Selma. Quiett said $300 toward their trip had been contributed by residents of Marin City.

The session of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo met yesterday and appropriated $500 to send the church's minister, Rev. Henry E. Kuizenga, to Selma. He will be joined there by Rev. Wesley C. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, who is in New York and plans to go from there to Alabama.

Three members of the faculty of San Francisco Theological Seminary, Presbyterian institution in San Anselmo, arrived in Selma this morning. They are Rev. Banjamin A. Reist, professor of systematic theology; Rev. Aaron J. Ungersma, professor of pastoral psychology, and Rev. Neill Q. Hamilton, associate professor of New Testament.

"The Lord Jesus Christ is showing up in all kinds of places I don't want to go; but he doesn't leave me any choice," said Rev. Reist before leaving.

Already in Selma is Rev. Karel F. Botermans of the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin. His pulpit was empty yesterday, as 16 Unitarian-Universalist ministers had gone to Alabama. The usual 8 p.m. service on Wednesday will not be held because of Boterman's absence.

As others prepared to leave for Selma, Conrad L. Knudsen of San Anselmo, a San Francisco Theological Seminary student, returned Saturday after five days there. He said that in 40 minutes last Monday, he borrowed enough money from friends to make the trip.

"The moral support which has been offered to people from all over the country who have gone to Selma to participate in the demonstrations has had a great effect on the Negroes there," he reported.

"Since the demonstrations, the Negro residents of Selma are standing tall and walking proudly. They now have a purpose and some hope."

Fund-raising was the main purpose of the rally at College of Marin yesterday. And a memorial fund in honor of Rev. Reeb has been established by a group of Marin residents.

Money raised will be sent to Rev. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference to further its drive for equal rights for all citizens, announced Mrs. William J. Jackson, chairman of the fund. Area chairmen are Robert D. Carrow, mayor of Novato, for Northern Marin; Guy Baty for central Marin; Peter Goldstein for the Ross Valley, and Mrs. Benjamin Dreyfus for Southern Marin.

There was action in behalf of civil rights on the political front here, too. The steering committee of the Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club adopted a resolution urging President Johnson to "take more positive action supporting the voting rights of the citizens of Selma." Copies of the resolution were sent to the President and to California's senators and Rep. Donald H. Clausen, First District congressman, announced Mrs. John H. Newll, club secretary.

The torchlight rally in San Francisco yesterday was preceded by an earlier one addressed by several civil rights leaders.

At it, two men wearing American Nazi uniforms appeared carrying a placard reading, "America for Whites, Africa for Blacks," but a policeman persuaded them to leave.

There were other rallies, too, in Palo Alto and in Monterey.

In Selma, there was a warning that anyone who tried to parade would be arrested.

Thirty-two students at San Francisco Theological Seminary signed up this morning to go to Selma by bus if churchmen there ask for their help. The students also issued a plea for food, money and first aid supplies to be sent to Selma, which can be left at the semonary administration building.

NEW LOOK FOR SAN RAFAEL POLICE

Crash Hurts Ex-Marinite Musician

Cellist Cesare Silvio Claudio, 50, formerly of Marin, was injured Saturday night when a car leaped a divider barrier on Highway 101 on-ramp at Corte Madera and smashed into his auto.

Claudio was in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today with chest injuries and a cut right leg. The accident also injured three of his children.

Claudio now resides in Milpitas, but for years lived in Kentfield. He is conductor of the Claudio Symphony Orchestra which often performed in Marin and former music director of the Sausalito School District. He now is music instructor at West Valley Junior College, San Jose.

The Claudio car was going toward Highway 101, on the ramp from Tamalpais Avenue in Corte Madera at 11:45 p.m. A car driven by Harold R. Cardwell, 44, of 29 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, was leaving the highway when it leaped the divider strip and smashed into the Claudio car.

Cardwell was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital with chest and abdominal injuries.

Claudio's son Victor, 12, also was reported in fair condition with head injuries. Sons Dayton, 9, and Ernest, 17, were treated for cuts and bruises.

Bar Owner Asks Work Ban Lifted

Public hearing on a request of Jerry J. Galantiere, co-owner of Gatsby's bar, 39 Caledonia Street, Sausalito, for permission from the alcoholic beverage control board to participate in operation of the bar was held today in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

When the liquor license for the bar was granted by the board several years ago, Galantiere agreed to the condition that he not be involved in the bar's operation.

Gatsby's Inc. recently petitioned to have the condition removed. The petition was denied. Today's hearing was requested to appeal the board's decision.

Police Foil Attempt To Cash Bogus Check

Four men were booked by San Rafael police Saturday after one of them allegedly tried to pass a forged $125 payroll check at George's Recreation Parlor, 842 Fourth Street.

Police said the quartet tried in vain to cash the same check at five stores in the Corte Madera Shopping Center. Corte Madera police missed them at the center, and radioed to San Rafael and other cities.

Knowing that the recreation parlor has been a frequent victim of check passers, dispatcher Harold W. Thomason called proprietor George LeFevre. As they talked, one of the men entered the parlor.

Officer Gilbert F. Freitas hurried to the parlor, where he nabbed Homer Wayne Briscoe, 24, of 64 Main Street, San Quentin Village.

Briscoe ran into a hallway before Freitas caught him. There, police said, he dropped a wallet with the $125 check, made out to a Clyde Davis, and numerous identification cards for Davis.

Police Lt. Jay Fletcher, outside the building, saw a car across the street with three men inside. They were identified as Larry Simonton, 22, of 69 Cole Drive, Apt. 21, Marin City; Johnnie Clyde Gray, 39, of San Francisco, and Giles Pipkins, 35, of San Francisco.

In a small hole in the car floorboard, Inspector Richard Camper found another check, also made out to Clyde Davis, for $135.

All four were booked for forgery and conspiracy to commit forgery and held on $400 bail. Police said the checks were used five years ago by McDonald, Young and Nelson, Inc., an Oakland general contractor.

When Clark headed off the march, he told Vivian that a demonstration at the courthouse would "disrupt the whole (voting procedure).

About 100 demonstrators, some of them wrapped in colorful quilts, were still standing in the line when the barricades were taken down. A cheer went up when the wooden planks were removed.

All through the night at least 100 whites and Negroes were on the line, changing shifts and singing or listening to speakers. During the night most of the highway patrol cars were removed.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was to return to Selma today to lead a memorial service for Reeb who had come to Alabama in support of King's voter registration drive.

Planners To Discuss Tiburon Boulevard

Tiburon planning commissioners meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School will discuss ideas for providing parking areas, turn outs, bicycle and walking paths along a future Tiburon Boulevard.

The portion of roadway under discussion is that from approximately Reed Ranch Road to San Rafael Avenue, which will be constructed in seven to 10 years by the state division of highways, which now has plans only for a four-lane highway.

golf driving range and horseback riding.

Mrs. Walter Becker, wife of the applicant for the permit, said the plan is to have a family type of private club, with membership limited to about 150 families.

The permit also would allow refreshment stands and the sale or rental of recreational equipment.

The planning staff reported it had no objection to the idea "as long as the club remains private and reasonably high standards of development and operation are maintained so that it does not become a honky-tonk."

Commissioners agreed that the permit should be reviewed in three years.

The application is scheduled to go to the board of supervisors for approval March 23.

and said the pilot was missing.)

U. S. Air Force planes also took part in the mission.

The Phu Qui ammunition dump is in the foothills of North Viet Nam about 40 miles from the Laotian border.

The strike was the third against North Viet Nam this month—a 160-plane raid March 2, and a joint American-South Vietnamese raid yesterday against Communist - held offshore islands.

The spokesman called today's raid "the most remunerative target we've had."

He said the Air Force planes which helped carry out the mission were "based in Southeast Asia" but would not disclose where.

Earlier, U.S. officials here had described the raid as retaliation for continuing acts of sabotage and terrorism by Communist forces in South Viet Nam.

It followed by less than 24-hours the U.S.-supported assault on Tiger Island, a major Communist base just north of the 17th Parallel. Twenty - six South Vietnamese fighter-bombers took part in that raid.

An American military spokesman said there was a new policy against revealing details of "support - type" missions in which the Vietnamese air force plays the major role in the actual bombings while U.S. planes knock out Communist anti-air-aircraft batteries.

Yesterday's raid fell into that category. Nguyen Cao Ky, the flamboyant commander of the South Vietnamese air force, flew the lead plane. Two American air force pilots, both colonels, were aboard participating U.S. jets and fighter-bombers.

Truck Driver Tells Deputies Of Beating

Sheriff's officers today were investigating an attack on a Monterey truck driver who was cut on the neck, apparently by one of two men he met in a Mill Valley bar.

The victim, Clarence Eugene Mowery, 36, was treated at Marin General Hospital at 12:40 a.m. today for the cut.

Deputies said Mowery, who first said he was injured in a fall, then told them he met the men and a woman in the bar about midnight. They accompanied him to his parked moving van at Oaktree Restaurant near the Richardson Bay Bridge.

Mowrey said that before he could start the truck, the two men grabbed him and one accused him of "insulting my wife." He said he wasn't aware he was cut until passers-by noticed he was bleeding. A resturant client took him to the hospital.

OBITUARIES

Joseph Grbac, 72, Succumbs

Joseph Grbac, 72, of 170 Centro West Street, Tiburon, died today at a local hospital after a year's illness.

A native of Austria, he came to California in 1911 and had lived in Marin for 40 years.

He was a gardener in the Belvedere-Tiburon area throughout the time he was in the county.

Surviving is his brother, Mate Grbac of Tiburon.

Requiem mass will be offered at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Hilary's Church, Tiburon. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

PETER HOES

Peter Hoes, 44, of 405 Redwood Road, San Anselmo, was found dead in his home last night by his landlord, John M. Reichmuth of the same address.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton sai Hoe's death apparently was due to natural causes. He ordered an autopsy.

Keaton said the death apparently occurred Friday night.

Hoes was last seen Friday by Mrs. Reichmuth. Her husband noticed the door of Hoes's cottage was ajar while he worked in the yard Saturday but didn't check on the tenant because Hoes preferred to be left alone. Finally on Sunday night, Reichmuth entered the cottage and found the man's body on his bed, he told Keaton.

Hoes had worked until recently as an assistant analyst for Friden Inc. of San Francisco. He served as a lieutenant in the Navy during World War II.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Helen K. Hoes of Bass River, Mass.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

ARTHUR OHNIMUS

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Death has come to Arthur Ohnimus, the courtly former chief Assembly clerk seen and heard by thousands of Californians and legislators since 1915.

Ohnimus died early yesterday at the age of 72 in his Sacramento home after a long illness.

Starting as an attache in 1915, Ohnimus served the Assembly for 45 years, with most of the period from 1923 to his retirement in 1963 spent as chief clerk. He left in 1937 for three years as a deputy in the district attorney's office in his native San Francisco.

It was the soldier-straight, white haired Ohnimus whose voice called the Assembly to order, advised on parlimentary matters and directed the paperwork in the lower house for many sessions.

"Strict neutrality" was Ohnimus' watchword, enabling him to work with Democratic speakers even though he was a registered Republican.

Toward the end of his long career, Ohnimus became convinced the legislature should be elected on a non-partisan basis.

"What is partisan," he commented, "about allocating money to institutions, passing laws to standardize tomatoes or building roads?"

COLONEL COXE

Memorial services for Col. A. B. Coxe, USA (Ret.) of 489 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, who died Friday, will be held at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, Corte Madera.

The family prefers contributions to the Holy Innocents Memorial Fund.

MRS. FENTON

Funeral for Mrs. Catherine Fenton,64, of 3 Doris Avenue, Novato, who died Saturday in a local hospital after a long illness, were held today at Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato.

Mrs. Fenton was born in Scotland, Nov. 15, 1900. She came to this country in 1926 and lived most of her life in Newark, N.J. She moved to Novato three years ago to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. James Rizzitello.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Rizzitello and Mrs. Jack Duncan of Novato; a son, James L. Fenton of Springfield, N.J.; two brothers, John McMurray of Springfield, and William McMurray of Lincoln Park, N.J.; a step-brother, Alexander Mitchell of Cranford, N.J.; five sisters, Mrs. Hugh McBurney of Renfrew, Scotland; Mrs. W. A. Irslinger and Mrs. Jack Mitchell of Cranford, N.J., Mrs. Samuel Wilson of East Orange, N.J., and Mrs. Elizabeth Davis of Plainfield, N.J., and 10 grandchildren.

Burial was in Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato.

LYDIA STODDARD

Mrs. Lydia Stoddard, 82, of 1118 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Stoddard and her husband lived in Vallejo until his death two years ago. Mrs. Stoddard then came to live with her sister, Mrs. G. G. Hieb of Kentfield.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Hieb and Mrs. Fred Hoff of Lodi.

CALIFORNIA'S NATIVE SON NOW A MINORITY

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Like a giant magnet, California continues to draw population from other parts of the country.

In fact, the State Department of Finance reported Sunday, more than half of California's population as of 1960 came from the other 49 states.

Leading the population push are people aged 20 to 24 years old. The greatest numbers come from Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Kansas.

Other states contributing large numbers of new California residents are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The 64-page population report, which the department termed the most extensive migrant survery ever made in the state, said the Los Angeles-Orange County area is the primary target of migrants. But many of these newcomers later head north to settle in Santa Clara and Sacramento counties.

Local Grievances Top Steel, Union Parleys

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Basic steel contract talks resumed after a weekend recess today with both sides hopeful they can turn this week from local roblems to the bigger issues of wages and total job security.

Negotiators for U.S. Steel Corp., and the United Steelworkers Union met in four main groups to discuss local complaints at plants making heavy products, wire, tubes sheet and iron.

The other basic steel companies, who generally follow U.S. Steel's lead, also were discussing local grievances.

Consideration of the key economic issues — wages and fringe benefits — is scheduled to start this week.

But it's apparent that many local complaints remain to be settled. Both sides seem eager to get this over with.

One steelmaker, Bethlehem Steel Corp., reportedly already had some discussion of the bigger issues last week shortly after steel talks resumed following a two-month recess forced by the union's election.

Sources say there may be reading of the union's general demands this week.

Mansfield Points To Role For LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—For Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., it's a matter for pointing with pride. Since Congress convened Jan. 4, the Senate has passed 13 of President Johnson's legislative requests.

Mansfield said yesterday that the 14th recommendation — expansion of the existing Manpower Act as part of the administration's anti-poverty program —will be brought up for Senate action this week.

Marincello Sewage Discussion Slated

Frouge Corp. representatives are to meet with Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors Mar. 23, to seek a tie-in in the proposed City of Marincello downfall lines with the sanitary district. The meeting is at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

It is proposed that sewer lines come into Tamalpais Valley, then connect with the Sausalito treatment system.

Teen-Age Bullies Use Switchblade

Two 13-year-old boys, one from Belvedere, the other from Tiburon, were charged with threatening two children with a switchblade knife on Saturday.

Belvedere police reported three 13-year-olds approached two other boys, aged seven and eight, as the younger children played in a vacant lot on Beach Road at 4:30 p.m.

Two of the three older boys made threatening motions with the knife, as if to cut off the ear of the younger boys. The third 13-year-old, from Belvedere, convinced his friends to stop their threats, police said.

Lawmakers Worry About Elderly, Mental Hospitals

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— An Assembly subcommittee has charged that thousands of aged Californians are ending up in state mental hospitals because they are senile—not mentally ill.

"Most of them die within a year of being institutionalized," a report from the Assembly Ways and Means Subcommittee on Institutions said yesterday.

It recommended that senile persons be cared for "under conditions more suited to their needs."

The subcommittee, headed by Assemblyman Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, said other faults in the state's care of the elderly were:

The present state schedule of allowances for nursing homes often penalized those providing good care to senior citizens while rewarding those which sacrificed care for lower labor costs.

The elderly under institutional care were too frequently transferred between institutions without consent of their families or doctors.

Too many agencies administered programs to care for the elderly, resulting in duplication and overlapping of services and conflicting policies.

The subcommittee recommended:

A Department of Senior Citizens services to pull together all programs for the elderly.

A comprehensive program of services to the aged aimed at keeping them independent as long as possible.

A revised schedule of allowances for nursing homes which would more accurately reflect the actual costs of care provided.

Stricter controls on admission of elderly citizens to state mental hospitals.

Jewish Charity Drive Launched

The annual Jewish Welfare Federation fund drive kicked off in Marin County last night with a dinner meeting at Temple Rodef Sholom, 170 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Local co-chairman for the campaign Mr. Richard H. Driedman of Mill Valley said today it was very successful with 103 people attending.

Principal speaker was Marshall H. Kuhn, San Francisco civic leader who has visited Europe, Israel and North Africa on Jewish Welfare Federation assignments. Carl Stern, chairman for the whole San Francisco, Marin County and Peninsula drive, also spoke.

Dancer To Star

Ann Halprin of Kentfield, founder of the Marin Dancers' Workshop, will be featured in a program of new works presented by the San Francisco Dancers' Workshop for four weekends, starting Friday at 8:30 p.m., at the Playhouse, Beach and Hyde streets, San Francisco.

Allstate Rates Will Increase

Auto insurance rates for motorists insured by Allstate Insurance Companies will increase, it was announced today.

The increase was caused by higher costs of settling accident claims, President Judson B. Branch said.

State Farm Insurance Companies also reported that they would be "forced to do the same thing in 1965."

Branch estimated that the increase in premiums might range from 8 to 12 per cent across the nation.

He said Allstate's total profit on all its fire and casualty insurance business dropped from more than $8 million in 1963 to $368,000 last year. He added that the cost of settling auto insurance claims, per property-damage policy, had risen 12 per cent in 1964.

Brown Proclaims Wildlife Week

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown says California "may be the last stronghold for many species of wildlife."

In a statement on the observance of National Wildlife Week Brown said Sunday:

"This state has been blessed with an abundance of fish and game and the largest recreation area in the United States, and we must protect that heritage for future generations in spite of the demands of civilization."

He added, "Only through the heritage be protected for posterity."

GOVERNMENT EYE ON MARINCELLO

Aides Refuse To Block Development But Express Concern Over Gate View

The federal government has declined to follow Sausalito group's plea that it block development of the proposed southern Marin city of Marincello.

It has, however, urged the developers to make sure proposed tall buildings on the site would not mar the view of the Marin headlands from San Francisco.

These comments came in a letter from Undersecretary of the Interior John A. Carver Jr. to Peter D. Whitney of Inverness, executive director of the Committee to Save the Golden Gate.

Whitney sent a telegram to President Lyndon B. Johnson in January asking him to do what he could to bar the plan's completion.

Johnson referred the matter to the Department of the Interior.

In his reply, Carver said its preparation had "required considerable research since certain crucial facts were in doubt."

He said the department had tried hard, without complete success, to reconcile conflicting statements on how many of Marincello's buildings would be visible from San Francisco.

The committee contends the new city would be visible from many vantage points in San Francisco. The Frouge Corp., developer, says most of it would be invisible from all but the extreme northwestern edge of San Francisco, although a "large, resort-type hotel" would sit on its highest point.

Using topographic maps, Carver said, the department concluded that much of the Marincello property could be seen from the plaza at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in Lincoln Park.

"From the available information, we conclude that the proposed development does pose a threat to the integrity of the scenic view across the Golden Gate," Carver wrote.

"We assume that the county board (of supervisors) will take this fact into account in its future deliberations."

Concerning the impact of Marincello on state parks, Carver said the Department of the Interior would "continue to place the highest priority" on state applications for surplus lands from forts Barry, Baker and Cronkhite when they are made available later this year.

After looking at all available facts, Carver said, the department had found "no basis for action at this time."

It has, however, written to Thomas Frouge, board chairman of the Frouge Corp., "pointing out that it is within the corporation's province to locate structures on the property and regulate their height so that the integrity of the Golden Gate view may be retained."

Said Carver: "We have expressed to Mr. Frouge our hope that the corporation will carefully re-examine its plan and assure that such a course is followed."

United Ambulance Service Expanded To Cover Gaps

United Ambulance is now taking emergency calls previously handled by Marin Ambulance Co. and no immediate change is contemplated, John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator, said today.

"I don't think we'll change any further unless some other ambulance service appears on the scene," Barrows said.

United Ambulance was previously assigned to central Marin emergency calls under the "informal" system used at county communications center, Barrows said. Under the new arrangement, United will handle central and southern Marin emergency calls.

California Ambulance of Novato will continue to answer most calls north of Marinwood, with Petaluma Ambulance covering a small area in the north and northwest part of the county.

Walt Disney To Lead Rose Bowl Festivity

PASADENA (UPI)—Walt Disney has been named grand marshal for the 77th annual Rose Parare next Jan. 1. The theme for the 1966 parade will be "It's a Small World."

The name Coloma in El Dorado County is derived from "Koloma", a Nishinan Indian tribe. James W. Marshall discovered gold there Jan. 24, 1848.

BUS TORPEDOS FLYING BOAT ON U.S. 101

A 15-foot wooden boat was demolished yesterday when a Greyhound bus hit the boat amidships as it flew across Highway 101.

Bus driver Robert C. Hill of Santa Rosa told highway patrolmen he was driving north on the highway near Marin City when he saw a boat trailer come loose from a southbound car ahead of him and on the other side of the highway.

The trailer careened into the center guard rail and stopped. The boat kept going. It flew over the guard rail, in front of the bus. No one was injured when bus and boat collided.

Walter L. Beavers, 18, of Pacifica, driver of the car-trailer, was cited by California Highway Patrolmen for not having sufficient safety chain between car and trailer.

No More Rainfall Before Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There will be no rain in Northern and Central California through Saturday, today's five-day forecast said. Temperatures will be near normal for mid-March.

The weather will continue fair through tomorrow, the forecaster said, but there will be an increase in coastal overcast.

A violent thunderstorm with torrential rains hit Los Angeles last night and scattered showers were predicted for the area today.

The Marin Historical Museum (open Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday) at Mission Avenue and B Street, San Rafael, exhibits relics of Marin's historical background.

Dr. William J. Ferguson, of 284 San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere reported to police that someone took two eye examining instruments valued at $110 from his car's glove compartment sometime Friday night as the car was parked in his driveway.

San Rafael Student Shines In Math Tests

Peter Montgomery, senior at San Rafael High School, received the highest score ever made at the school in the mathematics contest sponsored annually by the Mathematical Assn. of America and the Society of Actuaries, the high school announced yesterday.

Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. L. Montgomery of 780 Las Colindas Road, Terra Linda, started studying high school algebra during the seventh grade at Santa Margarita School in Dixie School District and continued his algebra studies the following year at Vallecito Junior High School.

By his sophomore year in High school he had completed all the courses, or their equivalent, which are offered by San Rafael High in algebra, geometry and trigonometry. For the past two years he has taken courses in calculus by correspondence from the University of California.

Other courses being taken by the youth this year are Latin, German, Chemistry, humanities, typing and driver training.

Peter has not decided where he will go to college, but says he intends to be a physicist.

Loma Verde School Contract Award Due

San Jose School District trustees will award a contract for a six-room addition to Loma Verda School at their meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district board room.

The two bids for the addition were opened Friday. Wright and Oretzsky of Santa Rosa was low at $119,100, with Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma, bidding $122,000. Both are within the $134,000 allocated by the state.

Hub City School Trustees Will Discuss Salaries

San Anselmo School District trustees will discuss the 1965-66 salary scheduled for teachers and administrators in their district when they meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Isabel Cook School.

The trustees will first hear a report from their citizens committee on the April 20 $700,000 bond election.

The trustees will discuss the effect of the Tamalpais High School District unification on their bond election. They will also talk about the effect unification would have on the district's personnel.

The trustees will hear a report on seventh and eighth grade curriculum.

Calaveras means skulls. Captain Moraga, who led the first expedition up the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, found quantities of skulls, relics of battles fought between Indian tribes for possession of salmon in the San Joaquin.

LBJ Healthy, But Doctors Want Him To Relax More

WASHINGTON (AP) — A team of four doctors assured President Johnson today that "his general health is excellent." But they did talk over with him the advisability of exercise and scheduled days for relaxation.

The physicians examined the President Saturday morning.

They reported that results of laboratory tests and a reading of the heart — damaged by an attack in 1955 — were normal. So were results of other examinations.

The doctors were the White House physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, his assistant, Capt. James M. Young, and two doctors who have looked after the President previously James Cain of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and J. Willis Hurst, head of the medical school at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga.

The 20th amendment to the constitution changed the date for the Presidential inauguration from on or about March 4 to Jan. 20.

Father, Son Both Suffer In Accident

An 18-year-old boy lost three toes in a lawn mower accident yesterday afternoon and in the excitement, his father suffered a heart attack.

Both were admitted at 4:10 p.m., yesterday to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

The father drove his son to the air base hospital, then collapsed with a heart attack.

The son was in good condition today after the first three toes on his right foot were amputated. The father was in critical condition, the hospital reported.

Shoplifters Get Off With Two $40 Suits

Someone stole two cotton suits from Moore's Style Shop at 1518 Grant Avenue, Novato, Saturday, Mrs. Wileta Moore Tignor of 657 Palm Street, Novato, reported to police.

The two suits, valued at $40, were taken from the rack while the shop was open, Mrs. Tignor said.

Child Support Sought From Restaurant Man

A petition for $500 monthly allowance for an allegedly illegitimate son of the late restaurateur Wyman Franklin (Bob) Campbell was mailed over the weekend for filing in Marin Superior Court, an attorney said today.

Allen Spivock, San Francisco lawyer, said the allowance request is from Mary Frances Leonard, 38, of 206 Caledonia Street, Sausalito, on behalf of her son, Robert James Campbell, aged 3.

He said California law prevents an illegitimate child from inheriting money from the father, but there is provision whereby a family allowance can be provided from the estate. He said an April 4, 1961, ruling by Judge Joseph Karesh of San Francisco Superior Court granted the child $250 monthly payment from Campbell.

He said Campbell, owner of Bob's Steak House in San Francisco and Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, not only did not contest paternity, but voluntarily paid an additional $112.50 monthly for the boy's food and clothing, and for attendance at Sausalito Nursery School.

Campbell died of a heart attack aboard the Folly in San Rafael Yacht Harbor last March 5. A son, Frank W. Moulthrop of Lafayette, also known as Wyman Franklin Campbell Jr., was appointed special administrator of the estate last Wednesday by Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court.

Moulthrop estimated Campbell's estate at $70,000. Miss Leonard estimates it at over $500,000, she said today.

She added that Campbell visited her and the boy almost daily until he died, and showed a "genuinely fatherly interest and affection" for the boy. Campbell said a year ago he was setting up a trust fund for the small son, Miss Leonard said.

But Moulthrop and his attorney, Samuel Jacobs of San Francisco, have said no will was left.

The petition for support had not been received by noon today in the Marin County Clerk's office, officials said.

Tomales Student Is Best Talker

Wayne Parks of Tomales High School, representing the West Marin Lions Club, won the zone speaking contest of the Lions clubs last Friday night in the supervisors rooms of the Civic Center.

Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks of Tomales, will go on to the Region Four speaking contest of the Lions clubs at 7:30 p.m. March 23 in Tiburon Tommie's.

Felony Drunken Driving Charged

Bobert A. Sandahl, 44, of 123 Bolinas Avenue, San Anselmo, was charged with felony drunken driving yesterday after his car vaulted a barrier from a Highway 101 off-ramp to hit another auto on South Novato Boulevard.

Sandahl's car was leaving the highway on the southbound off-ramp, which is separated from the northbound approach on South Novato Boulevard by the barrier and a stretch of earth. It veered off its roadway at 6:40 p.m., hit the barrier and catapulted onto a car on South Novato Boulevard driven by Charles E. Jones III, 33, of 530 Arthur Street, Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Both drivers were treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts and bruises. Sandahl was ordered to appear in Marin Municipal Court on Wednesday to answer the drunken driving charge.

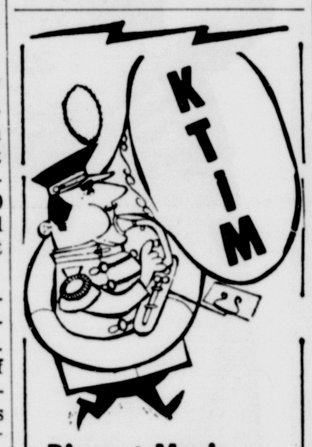

Coed Motorist Suffers Cut Lip

Kathleen Francis Halloran, 16, of 10 Gustafson Court, Novato, was cut on the lip when the car he was driving hit a utility pole in front of 2188 Center Road, Novato, at 6:09 a.m. yesterday, according to Novato police.

Miss Halloran was westbound on Center Road when her car crossed the eastbound lane to hit the pole, police reported. Her brother, Michael, 10, a passenger, was uninjured.

She said she dropped a hair-curler and was looking for it on the floor of the car when it swerved into the pole.

She was cited for driving without a license and on the wrong side of the road.

It has often been said that the only logical substitute for a new Cadillac is one that has seen previous service. Whatever you plan to invest in your next car, above all consider Cadillac.

If you are like most people, you hope someday to own a new Cadillac motor car. For Cadillac's continuing greatness in design and engineering has made it one of the world's most desirable and sought-after possessions. But if a new Cadillac is not presently feasible, you should consider the pleasure and satisfaction that would be yours with a late model, previously-owned Cadillac. Your dealer currently offers an unusually wide selection of fine used Cadillacs at a cost in line with that of many new cars of far less stature and quality. These fine Cadillacs are all in superb condition, and many offer features not yet available on other makes. And from a standpoint of investment, remember that a Cadillac traditionally returns more of its cost at resale than any other car at or near its price. So visit your authorized Cadillac dealer, and let him show you a Cadillac—new or used—that will fit your budget. Your visit will be the wisest motoring move you have ever made. Why not make it this week?

Vehicles Office Bars Hingsbergen

In spite of a court order to "immediately reinstate" him, the State Department of Motor Vehicles today refused to let Lester H. Hingsbergen of 32 Dellwood Court, San Rafael, go back to work at his old job as Northern California investigator.

Hingsbergen showed up for work at the department's San Francisco office today, but was told there had been no order yet from the California Personnel Board to re-open his job.

The court order came last week from Judge Joseph Karesh of San Francisco Superior Court.

The department's Sacramento information office said Hingsbergen was informed that he could not go back to work today in a teletype to San Francisco from William P. Scanland, manager of investigations.

Scanland said the personnel board's actions "may be dependent on the attorney general's" who has filed notice of intention to appeal Judge Karesh's ruling.

Karesh last week blasted the the state personnel board and state personnel board and praised Hingsbergen's 32-year record in the department. The investigator has not worked for the state since he was dismissed in June, 1963.

White Front Stores Eye Marin Site

White Front stores, a discount department store operation, plans to locate a branch in Marin County and has started negotiations for 17 acres of land immediately across Highway 101 from the Corte Madera shopping center.

The land is owned by a group of investors headed by Vernon Humber of Kentfield. Eugene Friend of San Francisco and Bernice Wood of Tiburon.

Clifford Dutro of Abe Doty Realtors, Oakland, said today he is acting as broker for Beneficial Standard Insurance Co., which would lease the land to White Front if it is purchased.

The proposed location of the store will be a major item for discussion by members of the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting set for 8 a.m. Wednesday at Bob's of Marin Restaurant.

According to town mgr. Arthur H. Brandow Jr., the 17 acres is zoned for industrial use, although the town general plan calls for commercial development.

Corte Madera's zoning ordinance does not allow retail stores in an industrial zone.

The land would have to be filled, Brandow added, but a "low level fill" with a levee to keep out water at high tide would be allowed under present ordinances.

College Area Seal Design Is Accepted

Jack Lucas, 22-year-old publicity director for the Associated Students of the College of Marin, has had his design for a state seal accepted as the proposed seal of area 7 of the California Junior College Student Government Assn.

His design, consisting of a quill pen over the state of California, was submitted by the COM representative to the president's workshop, Paul Molinari. The entry will be judged with seven other association designs at the statewide meeting in Palm Springs next month.

Lucas, of 24 Matilda Avenue, Mill Valley, was named area winner at a conference in Santa Rosa Saturday, where Marin delegates presented an impressive force of 30 students, led by Renato Sottile, Associated Students president, and ASCOM advisor John Gillin.

Of the seven resolutions accepted by the general assembly, five were introduced by Marin delegates who headed four of the 10 workshops established for the conference.

Marijuana Suspect Booked By Police

San Rafael police today booked Francis Mitchell Orella, 21, of 1309 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato, on suspicion of possessing marijuana.

In the process of booking him for drunkenness, police said they fround what appeared to be marijuana in his pockets. They planned to have it analyzed. He was arrested in front of 1009 Fourth Street.

Surfers who gauge a wave as it begins to build up and catch it as it swells, may swish to shore at speeds up to 40 miles an hour.

Mrs. Gatov Due Honors At Party

Two of California's top Democratic women, Mrs. Lionel Alanson and Mrs. John Fowle, will be in Marin tomorrow to honor Mrs. Albert W. Gatov of Kentfield, retiring national committeewoman, at a garden party.

The party will be from 1 to 3 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schultz, 26 Ralston Avenue, Mill Valley. Marin branch of the Democratic Women of the Bay Area is host.

Mrs. Alanson will succeed Mrs. Gatov as national committeewoman. Mrs. Fowle, sister of State Controller Alan Cranston, will succeed Mrs. Alanson as Northern California women's chairman.

Two Novato attorneys, Robert D. Carrow and Joseph Forest will discuss their experiences in Mississippi.

Thursday noon, Mrs. Gatov will be honored at a testimonial luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. The Democratic State Central Committee is sponsor of this event.

Tools Missing

White House Requests Flood Cleanup Money

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson asked Congress today for extra funds totaling $45.1 million, mainly to repair flood damage in California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington and by other natural disasters.

He also sent Congress a request for a supplemental appropriation of $250 million to cover the first installment of the U. S. share of a $900 million increase in the inter-American development bank's fund for special operations. The total U.S. share will be $750 million.

The request for supplemental funds for disaster repairs includes $33,195,000 for the 1965 fiscal year ending June 30 and $11.9 million for the 1966 fiscal year. The White House said the amounts would be within totals for both years as shown in president Johnson's fiscal 1966 budget.

The White House said the money was for "repair, replacement and restoration" of roads, bridges and other facilities damaged or destroyed by the disastrous floods in the five western and northwestern states.

Because the full extent of severe flood damage to roads and highways has not been completely determined in some instances, the White House said more money may be needed later.

In addition to roads and bridges, the funds would cover work on culverts, stream gaging stations, navigation and power facilities, wildlife refuges and recreational facilities.

Neighbors Go To Court On Woman's Acts

Dora Schollhorn is scheduled to plead tomorrow to charges of battery and disturbing the peace. Twenty-five of her neighbors filed a petition with San Anselmo police complaining about her actions.

Mrs. Schollhorn, 58, of 61 Florence Avenue, was arrested Friday and charged with three counts of disturbing the peace and two counts of battery.

The neighbors' petition claimed she swore at women and children passing her home, threatened passers-by, threw sticks at children, and in one case turned a garden hose on the children of neighbor John J. Ryan, 65 Florence Avenue.

Police said she also once aimed her garden hose through the open windows of the Ryan home.

The formal complaint was signed at the district attorney's office by Joseph Henneberry, 63 Florence Avenue. Mrs. Schollhorn was released on her own recognizance in Marin Municipal Court Friday and ordered to appear tomorrow for plea.

Peking Says Russ Under U.S. Thumb

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China accused the Soviet government today of being "under the thumb of U.S. imperialism, the common enemy of the people of the world."

The accusation was made by the official Peking People's Daily in an editororial on the suppression of an attack March 4 by Chinese and North Vietnamese students on the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

It was the sharpest Chinese criticism of the Soviet government since Premier Nikita Khrushchev was ousted last October. The Peking mouthpiece said:

"Chinese students in the Soviet Union fell victim to persecution in their just cause of supporting the Vietnamese people by opposing U.S. aggression. The Chinese people cannot but express once again their extreme indignation at and strong protest against the Soviet government's perverted action of fawning upon U.S. imperialism and suppressing and manhandling anti-U.S. students."

The paper said it was the first time that a Communist government had used force "in broad daylight" to suppress a demonstration against the United States and had conducted, "with ulterior motives, political persecution of seriously wounded students in the hospitals."

It said this would not have been strange if it had happened in czarist Russia, Nationalist China or in the United States.

It charged the Russians "had indeed gone to the extremes," by savagely beating up Chinese students and maltreating them "in a hundred and one ways," then rejecting with "an arrogant air" the Chinese protest.

"On the other hand, when the U.S. Embassy in Moscow lodged a so-called protest, the Soviet government humbly apologized," and workmen were sent to the embassy to clean and repair the ink-splattered embassy walls and broken windows, it said.

Four students injured in the demonstrations returned to Peking Sunday for medical treatment, Peking radio said. Two of them had to be carried on stretchers from the plane, the broadcast said.

In Budapest, the Hungarian Communist party newspaper Nepszabadsag said the students during the demonstration had "acted as if they had a score to settle" with Soviet authorities.

The War in Vietnam

We are involved in an undeclared war in Vietnam and our involvement becomes deeper every day.

The aggression we seek to repel is actually a civil war. The government we seek to save is not stable or supported by its own people.

So far from stemming the tide of Communism, the spectacle of American pilots in American jets bombing Asians, breeds enemies for the United States throughout the world.

Each step to expand the war, and so to end it successfully, has had to be followed by a further step and a larger commitment.

The end is not in sight: and that end may be a nuclear war.

Yet there is a great apathy and silence in our own country. Only a few courageous voices in Congress are calling for sanity.

Senator McGovern said on Jan. 15th, "Expanding the American military involvement is an act of folly..."

The time to speak out may be very short.

Peronist-Red Coalition Has Luck At Polls

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentina's Communist - backed Peronists won the popular vote and almost tripled their congressional strength in Sunday's off-year election, returns showed today.

The voting was a showdown between the powerful supporters of exiled strongman Juan D. Peron and the government party of President Arturo U. Illia.

The Peronists, undaunted by their leader's failure to return as promised from exile in Spain, polled about 35 per cent of the total vote.

Illia's People's Radical Party (UCRP) received about 30 per cent.

In returns from 35,681 of the 46,616 precincts, the Peronists polled 2,649,917 votes—2,184,766 of them for the principal Peronist party, the Popular Union. Illia's UCRP polled 2,253,033 votes.

The outlawed Communist party instructed its 200,000 members two weeks ago to support the Popular Union.

The voting involved 90 seats in the 192-member Chamber of Deputies, the lower house of the Argentine legislature.

King Vows No Surrender In Negro Rights Campaign

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. said last night it is "midnight in the moral order" and vowed to continue civil rights demonstrations in Alabama even if it is necessary to fill all the state's jails.

King held several speaking appearances and news conferences in Chicago before flying back to Atlanta. He planned to oversee a march on the county courthouse at Selma today and deliver a eulogy at a memorial service for the Rev. James Reeb, the white minister beaten to death in Selma last week.

King addressed about 3,000 persons at the Liberty Baptist Church here.

"People are too busy obeying the 11th commandment — thou shalt not get caught—to worry about the other 10 commandments," he said. "Today it is the survival of the slickest.

When it is midnight in the moral order . . . all colors lose their distinctness and take on a sullen shade of gray."

"It may get a little dark in Alabama," he said. "Some others may have to face death like the Rev. James Reeb. But justice will come to the South."

Lagunitas Trustees Due Staff Requests

Consideration of staff requests for increases in salaries for the 1965-66 school year is scheduled by the Lagunitas School District board at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lagunitas School.

Classroom facilities for the coming school year and the April 20 bond election will be discussed.

The name Marin is said to have been derived from an affectionate term for an Indian chief, El Marinero, meaning "the sailor," by Spanish-speaking friars.

Marin Speakers Pay Tribute To Civil Rights Workers

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

"While Mississippi may not be the land of the free, it certainly is the home of the brave."

This tribute to Negro and white civil rights workers in that state was voiced by Sausalito City Councilman Melvin S. Wax to a capacity crowd at a civil rights rally in College of Marin's Olney Hall yesterday.

Wax, a reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle, was one of six men, all white, who spoke. Like the others, he recently returned from Mississippi.

The program, called "Marin in Mississippi," was sponsored by Marin Friends of SNCC (Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee). One of its aims was to raise money and support for the "Marin to Mississippi" project, which seeks to send food, clothing, books and household items to needy Negro families.

It opened with the audience standing in a minute of silent tribute to Rev. James J. Reeb of Boston, beaten to death in Selma, Ala., last week after taking part in a voter registration march.

Other speakers were San Rafael carpenter Philip Drath, Re v. Jack Bartlett of the Mill Valley Community Church, and Novato attorneys Robert D. Carrow and Joseph Forest. Attorney Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., of Sleepy Hollow was chairman.

Responding to other speakers' comments about the amount of courage required to go to Mississippi, Drath jokingly played down his own reasons for joining other northern carpenters in helping to re-build burned and bombed Negro churches.

"I didn't really have the courage," he said. "I got down there by accident."

Drath said he carelessly agreed the project would be a good idea, but continued to maintain an attitude of "that is great—let them go!" when other Marin carpenters showed enthusiasm for it.

He agreed to go, he said, when it turned out he was the only Quaker carpenter. The project was sponsored by Quakers.

Drath said he returned with a stiff neck from "trying to look all directions at once when I was driving to make sure no one would shoot me."

"In Mississippi, everybody is not bad. Everybody is scared, but they are not all bad," Drath said.

With this he contrasted his belief that Mississippi Negroes, for the first time, are no longer afraid of the consequences when they demand their rights.

He cited several cases in which Negroes were killed or beaten for small or imaginary offenses, and said deputies in one area use an armored truck with a mounted machine gun "to take care of Negro problems."

Injustices, he said, have long prevailed. Now, however, "things are happening. Things are going to change."

Forest said Mississippi's closed society is being pried open" to reveal deep layers of rot beneath the facade of the charming, gentle "southern way of life."

He and the others repeatedly showed their admiration for the courage and dedication of many people they had encountered in Mississippi.

Wax told of Leonard Rosenthal who, he said, is the only white lawyer in the entire state who will touch civil rights cases.

Rosenthal, he said, rejected the "separate but equal" doctrine taught by his law school professors. Today, his parents will not talk to him, but he told his northern colleagues he "wouldn't trade places for a million dollars."

Bartlett told of a Negro minister who explained to him, after Bartlett and two others were beaten, that "when you are in Mississippi, you just accept being beaten."

Forest and Carrow told of George Washington Gates, father of seven children who lost his job when he registered to vote. His boss said he was "involving himself in political activities."

Still another man described by Wax was Dewey Green, whose son made an unsuccessful attempt to enter University of Mississippi shortly after James Meredith did.

Green had been content to mind his business, giving no one any trouble and asking for none, said Wax. But his home was blasted by shotgun fire after his son tried to enter "Ole Miss."

He became a rabid civil rights worker and now says "they shot me into this thing, and they are going to have to shoot me to get me out."

Three members of the San Francisco satire group, "the Committee," entertained for the final half hour of the program.

Demo Club Schedules Automation Forum

Automation will be discussed by two labor experts at the Mill Valley Democratic Club meeting 8 p.m. tomorrow in American Legion Hall, 469 Miller Avenue.

Speakers are Don Vial, chairman, Center for Labor Research, Institute of Industrial Relations, University of California at Berkeley, and Richard Liebes, research director, Building Service Employees Union, San Francisco. General discussion will be led by Roy Pyle, program chairman.

MOST WANTED — Donald Stewart Heien, 27, convicted murderer who escaped from San Quentin Prison May 4, was added to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of the 10 most wanted men today. Heien, armed and dangerous, is described by the FBI as a "trigger-happy holdup artist." He was convicted of killing a Whittier, Los Angeles County, service station attendant in 1956.

Mill Valley Youth Center Remodeling Aide On Job

Starting about mid-week a paid "expediter" will be working on the Mill Valley Community and Youth Center. He is George Boles, a carpenter-contractor and long-time Mill Valley resident.

Boles, according to Bill Woods of the city's youth advisory committee, will be foreman of the whole job, and will be a temporary city employee though paid by the Mill Valley Youth Council. The latter raised money through dances, barbecues and Christmas tree sales.

In addition, a tentative promise of assistance from the carpenters union in San Rafael has been given whereby it will lend apprentice carpenters to work on the community center, Woods reported.

Twenty-two teen-agers and eight adults turned out yesterday for the first remodeling work party on the center at Project 17. Work included removing portions of the structure which will not be utilized, framing, burning debris and work on the fireplace which was begun Saturday.

Completion of the center, said Woods, depends on the number of volunteers who turn out on week ends and during the week. "Now," he said, "there will be somebody here to show volunteers what to do and to provide necessary equipment."

Muir Woods National Monument preserves a virgin stand of redwoods and is the only area in the national park system containing trees of the species, sequoia sempervirens.

Boy, 11, Ran Into Utility Pole Wire

It was the 11-year-old boy who ran into a utility pole guide wire Tuesday, not Mrs. Margaret M. Wilson of 114 Myrtle Avenue, she told the Independent-Journal Saturday.

A story in Wednesday's Independent-Journal said Mrs. Wilson hit the wire as she halted the San Rafael younster's erratic "do-it-yourself" driving lesson.

Courthouse Rally Pays Tribute To Clergyman

The words of Christ and Abraham Lincoln combined with the refrain, "We shall overcome" as some 400 persons of all colors, faiths and ages gathered at the Marin County Courthouse Saturday in memory of Rev. James J. Reeb.

Reeb was fatally beaten as he took part in a civil rights demonstration in Selma, Ala., last week.

Speakers Saturday were four clergymen — Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—and chairman Peter H. Behr of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Their remarks took up the last half hour of a 90-minute rally. Before that, a growing line of people marched. First they made a loop along the Fourth Street side of the block, then they circled the block.

Some carried signs with slogans such as "President Johnson: the Invisible Man," "Freedom is a dirty word in Selma" and "Stop Selma storm troopers."

One placard was in the shape of a tombstone.

Behr was first to speak. He was followed by Rev. Jack Bartlett of the Mill Valley Community Church, Rev. Samuel L. Banks of Marin City's Village Baptist Church, Rev. Edward Dingberg of St. Isabella's Catholic Church, Terra Linda, and Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom, San Rafael.

Behr's brief remarks ended with the final words of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address:

". . . that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain— that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Rev. Bartlett said each person listening to him should send President Lyndon B. Johnson a telegram urging federal action in Selma.

Petitions to the same end were circulated through the crowd throughout the rally.

Rev. Banks, a Negro, said he came "as an American citizen decrying this crime on the American society."

"America has many sick people. But we cannot separate north from south, or east from west. We all bear part of the blame," he declared.

He concluded with Christ's words: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Father Dingberg said the gathering was proof that many people realized human dignity was "not a matter of what color your skin happens to be, or of what church or synagogue you happen to attend."

Equality for all, he said, must come "not just eventually, but soon."

Rabbi Hoffman reached into his own experience, recalling "a November night in 1938 in Germany—when the windows of synagogues were shattered, when Jews by the thousands were beaten and mauled, and others had their rights taken away—when murder was made the law of a so-called civilized country."

Many, he said, have asked why it happened in Germany. He supplied an answer:

"Because not enough people cared. People thought it was too risky to go out on a limb on behalf of Jews."

Americans, he continued, must show they care about what is happening today in the South.

"What is going on in Selma," he contended, "partakes of the same brutality, the same inhumanity and the same murderousness that went on in Nazi Germany."

At the session's close, chairman Douglas J. Quiett of the Marin Chapter, Congress of Racial Equality, asked everyone to sing the theme of the civil rights movement, "We Shall Overcome." He, Behr and the clergymen stood hand in hand at the top of the courthouse steps as groups of people on the grass swayed slowly and sang three choruses of the song.

MARINITES MARCH — Carrying flag-draped coffin, several hundred Marin County students and other residents march across Golden Gate Bridge yesterday in a demonstration against violence and racial injustice in Selma, Ala. While California Highway Patrol closed one traffic lane, marchers went to San Francisco to join similar group which made a three-day protest march from San Jose. (AP Wirephoto)

Driver's Head Hurt

Walter E. Walsh, 35, of 1960 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, suffered forehead cuts when the car he was driving went into a ditch beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard a half-mile west of Lagunitas at 6 p.m. yesterday. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Boy With Knife Gets Citation

A 17-year-old Mill Valley boy was cited to juvenile hall on charges of carrying a concealed weapon after a fist fight among a band of boys outside the Do Nut Kettle, 72 East Blithedale Avenue, at about 2:05 p.m., Saturday.

Three other boys were "severely reprimanded" by police.

Officers, called to the area at 2:10 p.m., found one youth had a knife tucked under his belt. All four boys said they had been attacked by several other boys who had left the scene before police arrived.

Husband Is Booked In Family Argument

Rolf Kraft Stahlbaum, 49, of 30 LaVista Way, San Rafael, was booked on his wife's complaint of battery after a family argument at 5:15 p.m. yesterday.

Police said a citizen's arrest was signed by Mrs. Kathryn R. Stahlbaum. She said he hit her.

Some tigers are fierce. Some tigers are ferocious. We build both.

It's getting so that choosing between our Wide-Track Tigers is as distressing as it is enjoyable. For instance, should you choose the incredible GTO with its extra helping of horsepower (360), or the way it comes (335)? Or should you go for the Le Mans with a 285-hp V-8, a 250-hp V-8, or 140-hp six? Either way they're all tigers with bucket seats, carpeting and lots of Oh-you-kid!

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Storm Center In Forest Knolls 'Grew' Out Of Pair Of Hobbies

One business that had no official opening, but "grew" out of a pair of hobbies is called Storm Center.

It would do credit to a place like Main Street, Tiburon—or even the Northgate Shopping Center. Instead, it's located on Sir Francis Drake Highway in Forest Knolls, next to Connie Manning's antique shop, and if you whizz by too fast you can miss it entirely.

Marge and Robert Storm are the proprietors. She is a housewife and he is a civil engineer. By avocation she has turned into a designer and maker of women's casuals, jackets, tops and ponchos which, in addition to their originality and striking weaves and colors, have the unusual quality of seeming to fit everyone — talls, shorts, thins and stouts.

His hobby of some 10 years is making jewelry — both delicate and bold—ear rings, pendants and brooches. Some are made of rare woods like lignum vitae and rosewood.

They share display space for their products — and strangely enough, one seems to compliment the other. You may spend more than you intended.

Christy

MYRON M. CHRISTY of Greenbrae, executive vice president of Western Pacific Railroad Co., has been elected to the board of directors of Bank of California. He joined the railroad in 1949 as a traveling accountant, held a number of positions in accounting, operating and executive departments and was elected a vice president and director in 1962. Last year he was made general manager.

STEPHEN LEONESIO, assistant manager of Macy's San Rafael for the past two years, has been appointed assistant manager of Macy's Stockton store, now under construction and due to open Aug. 1. His appointment will become effective June 1. A native of San Rafael, Leonesio joined the department store after graduation from University of California, Berkeley.

SAN FRANCISCO'S Better Business Bureau is receiving complaints that direct sellers of long-burning electric light bulbs are making unauthorized deliveries in the Bay Area. The "handicapped vendor" likewise has been reported.

The bureau notes that if no delivery has been authorized, the recipient may not be put to the expense of returning the merchandise and has no obligation to pay for it unless use is made of it.

ACCORDING to one San Rafael bank official, Marin County is being deluged with short-change artists, check raisers and bad check passers. Almost daily, he says, a number of worthless checks come through the bank.

His warning to merchants: Don't cash checks of unknowns (particularly drawn on out-of-town banks). If a check must be cashed, have it made for the amount of the purchase—and not more, involving change. Then if there is a loss it will be only for the cost of the merchandise.

In the last few days, his bank also took in from depositors three money orders issued by one of its Southern California branches. The drafts were authentic in their original form and amount of $3 — but had been cleverly raised to $73, $84 and $93 respectively. According to the serial numbers it seems likely the passer still has five more of them, and merchants have been notified.

Market Higher But Many Losses Taken

NEW YORK (AP)—Many gains were cut and losses taken late this afternoon but the stock market still seemed irregularly higher at the close. Trading was active.

Du Pont held a gain of nearly 2 and Xerox 3.

Still ahead about a point were such stocks as Ford, IBM, U.S. Smelting and General Motors.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.2 million shares compared with 6.43 million Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Despite some profit taking the trend was generally higher among airlines, motors, steels, aerospace issues, chemicals and electronics.

Low priced American Photocopy looked like the day's most active issue as it gained a fraction.

Du Pont advanced more than 2. Other blue chips which pushed up the average were General Motors, Eastman Kodak and General Electric, all up a point or better.

IBM and US. S. Smelting were ahead about 3 each, Polaroid 2.

General Dynamics and Grumman, down more than a point, ran into some selling. Western Air Lines broke more than a point on a brokerage house "sell" recommendation.

KLM, off a fraction, and Eastern Air Lines, down a point, met some profit taking.

Off a point or so were Pullman, Dome Mines, Arnold Constable, American South African Investment and Allied Products.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

The name Carquinez (strait in Upper San Francisco Bay) was derived from the Karquin Indians.

Bank Introduces Streamline Pay For Truckers

SAN FRANCISSCO—Bank of America has inaugurated interline clearings, a new service expected to benefit the state's 14,000 carriers. The service is an extension of the freight payment service announced by the bank in 1961.

Al R. Zipf, senior vice president of the bank, who announced the new service, said that under the terms of the agreement, carrier members who have funds coming from another carrier simply deposit their freightbills with the bank and receive immediate credit for their freight accounts.

(An interline bill is a bill that carries settlement of clearings of two or more carriers involved in the same shipment. A shipment of parts moving from Sacramento to Cape Kennedy might go through several carriers before reaching the final destination. It would involve two or more settlements to the different carriers involved, thus producing the interline bill.)

Great Western Has Banner Year

LOS ANGELES—Consolidated Assets, saving accounts and loans of Great Western Financial Corp. each reached record highs during the year 1964, according ot the company's annual report.

Total assets at year end increased to $1,518,585,024 as compared with $1,430,616,465 at the close of 1963.

Consolidated net earnings for xzivaia.ingaakesa the year 1964, after income taxes but before appropriations to general reserves, amounted to $9,408,056, equal to $1.10 per share, as reported earlier on an estimated basis. This compared with $15,810,789, or $1.84 per share after adustment for a 5 per cent stock dividend.

TWA Announces Fifth Flight For New York

SAN FRANCISCO — Trans World Airlines announced that effective April 19 it will add a fifth daily nonstop jet from San Francisco to New York.

John M. Davenport, senior director of sales for TWA said that Flight 14 will depart San Francisco at 9:45 a.m. and arrive in New York City at 5:30 p.m.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Giving To Charity Can Be Deductible

By P. J. WILKEL, C.P.A.

Your charitable contributions are deductible on your Federal return up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income provided that the gifts are to churches, educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals and organizations which normally receive a substantial part of their support from the government or the general public; such as museums, libraries, ballet, opera, symphony, Red Cross, United Crusade, Cancer Society, TB Assn., etc., etc.

Wikel

If your contributions to the above types of organizations exceeds 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income, you can carry any excess over to the next five years.

Contributions to organizations other than the above may be deductible up to 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You cannot add the two together to get a maximum of 50 per cent.

To be deductible, your contributions must be to a religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary organization, or an organization for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, except when such organization is operated for personal profit or to conduct propaganda or attempt to influence legislation.

Also deductible are gifts to fraternal organizations if they are to be used for charitable or religious purposes.

Also deductible are gifts to non-profit veterans organizations and gifts to the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing or the District of Columbia, but only if the contribution or gift is made for exclusively public purposes.

Contributions are deductible in the year paid.

Contributions in property are deductible at the fair market value of the property at the time of deduction, regardless of how much it cost you, except that if you donate property subject to depreciation, your contribution deduction is the fair market value, less the amount of depreciation you would have to report as ordinary income if you sold the property.

Out of pocket expenses which you pay in giving your services without pay to a qualified organization are deductible as contributions. This includes amounts you pay for gas, oil, etc., and bus fare.

It includes amounts you pay for transportation from your home to the place where you serve. It does not include depreciation or insurance on your car. However, under Revenue Procedure 64-15, you can deduct 5¢ per mile for the use of your car as above.

Reasonable payments for necessary meals and lodging while you are away from home giving services to a qualified organization are deductible. However, you cannot deduct expenses to attend a convention solely as a member rather than as a duly chosen representative. Unreimbursed expenses directly connected with and solely attributable to gratuitous service you may perform for your charitable organization during the meeting are deductible.

Contributions to political organizations are not deductible on the Federal return, but they are on the California, to a limit of $100 on a separate return and $200 on a joint return. Contributions are deductible on your California return only up to 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

JIM MURRAY'S COLUMN 'NEW LOOK' IN SPORTS

Marin County sports fans will discover a new look in sports columning on Wednesday when the syndicated writings of Jim Murray will appear for the first time in the Independent-Journal.

Witty and provocative, Murray travels throughout the country in search of the material that has made his column one of the most popular-sports page features in the country. He has been writing a daily column in the Los Angeles Times since February 1961 and has been syndicated in more than 50 leading newspapers for the past three years.

The I-J will publish his column on the average of three times a week. Don't miss it!

Casper Signs With Peacock Gap

Billy Casper, one of the really big names and top money winners in professional golfing ranks, is the newest addition to Jerry Draper's "Who's Who" at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

Casper signed a contract with Draper last Saturday to switch his registration from Mountain View Country Club of Corona, Calif., to Peacock Gap. His official registration now will be from "Peacock Gap, Calif.," putting that multi-million dollar development literally on the state map. Draper is president of the development company.

As far as the professional staff at Peacock Gap is concerned, Bob Finn will still be the club pro. Casper will be the touring pro, occasionally giving exhibitions at the San Rafael course. Harris Lawless of Draper Development Co. said today the contract had been signed Saturday.

First appearance at Peacock Gap for Casper will be March 23. An all day affair, suitably titled "Billy Casper Day," activities will start at 10:30 a.m. and continue throughout the day, winding up with a cocktail party and dinner beginning at 6 p.m.

A press conference will be held at 11 a.m. that day, followed by brief putting and driving exhibitions by Casper at noon. Then at 1 p.m., two foursomes headed by Casper and Finn will tee off in an exhibition match that will include six top amateurs in Northern California. There'll be a $2 charge per head for that exhibition match.

Then at 5 p.m., Casper and Finn will hold a clinic for junior golfers, free of charge.

Casper will receive a retainer of more than $10,000 per year, but most of his time will be spent in the PGA tour. He will occasionally appear at Peacock Gap and will start a "Billy Casper Golf School" in addition to exhibition visits.

Most recent victory for Casper was first prize of $15,000 in the Bob Hope classic at Palm Springs last month.

Casper jumped the gun on the planned announcement of his switch to Peacock Gap over nation-wide television following the Doral Invitational tourney windup yesterday at Miami, Fla. It was to be officially announced this week by Draper Co., but Casper went into detail about the switch yesterday before the TV cameras.

He will be competing this week in the Jacksonville Open and will skip the Azalia Open next week in order to make his appearance at Peacock Gap.

Casper is the second "big name" in sports to join with Draper and Peacock Gap. The tennis program is headed by former National women's champion Darlene Hard.

And with the Peacock Gap rugby team joining the Northern California Rugby Union and plans bubbling over a major swim club, what started out as a realty complex has turned into a sports center with some of the top names available.

Can Anyone Stop Wondrous Bruins?

Dons Fail; NCAA Final This Week

By STEVE SMILANICH

PROVO, Utah, (UPI)—It's not exactly downhill for the rest of the way but UCLA's brawny Bruins figure they took a big step in their bid for second consecutive national collegiate basketball championship by beating up state rival San Francisco.

The Bruins now go to Portland, Ore., for a Friday night semi-final contest against Midwest champion Wichita of the Missouri Valley Conference.

UCLA, Kingpin of the Pacific Athletic Conference, won the Far West NCAA regional title Saturday night at Brigham Young University fieldhouse by edging San Francisco, 101-93.

At Portland, Coach John Wooden's scramblers will try to return the championship to the West Coast for the second consecutive year, a feat last performed by the Bill Russell-led San Francisco squads of 1955-56.

The win over the Dons and a 100-76 triumph over BYU boosted the UCLA season record to 26-2. The Bruins have lost only two games in the last 58 outings.

While UCLA has depended greatly on its zone press, the "Wooden Wonders" also showed that they have the poise, talent and running and shooting ability to make a strong bid for a repeat championship.

At Provo, they showed all the ingredients of a championship team. Furthermore, in the words of coach Wooden, "We seem to handle adversity and play well whenever we get into trouble."

All-America Gail Goodrich and teammate Keith Erickson led the Bruins past the stubborn Dons. Goodrich pumped in 30 points and Erickson contributed 29 as UCLA broke loose in the final five minutes to win the bitter struggle.

UFS, behind a great performance by center Ollie Johnson, had grabbed an 83-82 lead with 5:30 remaining. However, Mike Lynn and Goodrich picked up six consecutive points and the Bruins had an 89-83 lead with four minutes left to virtually sew up the contest. USF hopes sagged when forward Erwin Mueller fouled out, hurting the Dons' rebounding strength.

Goodrich and Johnson both used the Provo playoffs to establish school career scoring records. Goodrich woundup the Provo tournament with 70 points and pushed his career scoring mark to 1,621. This surpassed the previous high set by Walt Hazzard of 1,401.

Johnson, who was named the tournament's Most Valuable player, finished his career with a total of 1,668 points to surpass the 1,636 compiled by Russell.

Coaches Pete Peletta of San Francisco and Stan Watts of BYU both figured the Bruins have the potential to go all the way.

"I think they're stronger then last year because they have a better bench," said Peletta. Watts said, "they have a great combination in Goodrich and Erickson and they play good, smart basketball".

Wooden figures his team can go all the way if they continue to play the brand of ball they showed at Provo.

"This team has been up and down but they manage to handle themselves well under pressure," said Wooden. He added, "I'm very proud of them regardless of what we do at Portland."

Goodrich, Erickson, Johnson, Gray and San Francisco's Joe Ellis made up the all-tournament team, selected by sportswriters and sportscasters covering the meet.

FLASHY SANDERS HOTTEST GOLFER

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jovial Doug Sanders is known as the clown prince of golf. He also is the flashiest dresser since Jimmy Demaret dazzled the galleries with sartorial splendor.

And, at the moment, Sanders is the hottest money-winner and the coolest operator under pressure in the golf world.

The curly haired Georgian with the peculiar short swing beat off the fierce challenge of Australia's Bruce Devlin yesterday to win the $11,000 first prize in the $70,000 Doral Invitational Tournament by one stroke with a total of 274, a record 14 under par.

DOUG SANDERS
Second straight

It was a particularly notable victory that thrust Sanders into the limelight for several reasons.

He had scored the first back-to-back victories since Tony Lema accomplished this rare feat last June. Since 1962, the only other man who had done it was Jack Nicklaus last year's top money winner.

Sanders captured the Pensacola Open Tournament last Sunday.

It was the third time Sanders had turned the trick. He won the Fort Worth and Hot Springs Opens in succession in 1961 and the St. Paul and Oklahoma City Opens in order in 1962.

It put him hot on the trail of Billy Casper, who had been gobbling up the big money in the 1965 tournaments while Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer were passing up several events.

Coming into the Doral, Sanders was No. 1 on the PGA's "official" money winning list with $16,333 and he increased his total to $27,333 while Casper was winning only $587 for a 29th place finish and a total $16,164.

Casper remains the champion over-all money winner, however, with $35,921, including a $15,000 check picked up in the Bob Hope Tournament not recognized by the PGA. Sanders has $30,015 in over-all money.

Sanders' victory virtually clinched him an invitation to the Masters Tournament. He had missed it last year for the first time since 1957.

Two strokes behind Devlin at the start of yesterday's final round, Sanders caught him with birdies on the first two holes.

A three-way tie developed when young Randy Glover made a strong run at the leaders, but Sanders pulled away to win as Devlin watched a 25-foot clutch putt on the 18th that would have thrown the tournament into a sudden death playoff hang on the rim of the cup.

"I hope winning will become a habit," Sanders said. "I don't think I'll get tired of it."

Optimism In Giant Bailiwick

PHOENIX, Ariz (UPI)— It was a pretty good weekend for the San Francisco Giants—except for young pitcher Bill Hands.

Hands, a reliever up from Tacoma who might stick with the club, was belted for six runs and five hits yesterday as Cleveland took a 10-5 decision over the Giants before 7570 Phoenix fans.

It was a much sloppier contest than Saturday's sparkling 5-2 Giant win over the Tribe at Tucson, which was highlighted by Jack Sanford's snappy pitching.

Giant ace Juan Marichal fanned three and gave up two hits and a run in his three-inning debut yesterday, but Dick Estelle, Frank Linzy and Hands had problems getting batters out.

The Giants meanwhile collected 13 hits off an assortment of Cleveland hurlers. Willie Mays, Hal Lanier and Tom Haller got two apiece and Willie McCovey appeared as a pinch-hitter wearing special spikes designed to rest his aching feet and rapped a single to left. He had to leg it to third when outfielder Tony Curry misplayed the ball and McCovey arrived seemingly none the worse for wear.

One other feature of the new Giant regime under Herman Franks was that Willie Mays batted without the plastic helmet which he wore under strict orders when Alvin Dark piloted the club.

Saturday's performance by Sanford was enough to get Giant partisans writing in for World Series seats. He allowed one scratch hit and one solid one in three slick, scoreless innings.

Bob Hendley was cuffed around a bit, but newcomer Bob Priddy finished up in sharp style in more good news for those worried about the Giants' hurling staff.

The Giants got 10 hits in Saturday's game with Lanier and Jimmy Hart picking up two apiece.

Cleveland's Dick Howser was a thorn in the Giants' side all weekend as he got 5 of Cleveland's 18 hits.

Schallock, Wife Win St. Pat's Golf Tournament

Former New York Yankee southpaw pitcher Art Schallock and his wife, Donna, won first place yesterday in the First Flight of the Marin Country Club's St. Patrick's Mixed Twosome Golf Tournament.

Leaders:

First Flight—Mr. and Mrs. Art Schallock, 81-12—69; Mr. and Mrs. Al Morris, 84-14½—69½; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw, 86-15—71.

Second Flight—Mr. and Mrs. Odie Oliphant, 83-20½—62½; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchholz, 85-19—66; Mr. and Mrs. Pat McGrath, 91-19—72.

Third Flight—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Burke, 89-24½—64½; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stanford, 93-24—69; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Mohler, 95-24—71.

Fourth Flight—Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Altermatt, 91-25—66; Mr. and Mrs. Dick McCabe, 98-26—72; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sichel, 99-26—73.

MARIN PIRATES WIN SWIM MEET

The Marin Pirates Swim Club won the fifth annual Tamalpais Swim Club meet Saturday, scoring a total of 211 points, topping the second place San Rafael Swim Club which scored 185.

Twenty-one teams from the Bay Area competed in the combined Class A-B meet. First place winners will be listed in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.

EMPTY GLOVE—GIANT IS SAFE

Five Tars Named On All-League

College of Marin's basketball team, runner-up in the Golden Valley Conference, put one man on the first all-conference team, another on the second team, and three more on the honorable mention list.

Guard Jay Johnson of Marin, along with Santa Rosa center Tom Stewart, were voted unanimously to the first All-GVC team. Other members of the first team were forward Mike Francis of Santa Rosa, forward Ron Muskopt of Sierra, and guard Gene Landoe of Siskiyous.

Marin's Fred Arnold was one of three forwards named to the second dream team. Other team members were forward Dennis Smith of Napa, forward Bill Plummer of Shasta, center Roger Carpenter of Shasta, guard Bill Walker of Santa Rosa and guard Ralph Villanueva, of Sierra.

HONORABLE MENTION

Three Tars were among the 10 cagers on the honorable mention list. They were center Jim Halm, forward Bill Brody, and guard Brad Busch. Busch played only the first half of the season, before his eligibility ran out.

Johnson added his all-conference honors to his previous awards voted by his teammates. He was voted most valuable player and team captain at the conclusion of the 1964-65 season.

Light Heavies In Oakland Bout Friday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roger Rouse and Henry Hank, a couple of light heavyweight contenders, are featured in a light boxing program this week.

Rouse, the No. 6 contender from San Jose, and Hank, No. 10, of Detroit, meet in a 10-rounder at Oakland Friday night.

Also on Friday, Denny Moyer, fourth-ranking junior middleweight from Portland, Ore., faces Mexico's Hilario Morales, at Los Angeles.

SEALS SLIP A NOTCH IN BID FOR PLAYOFF

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Seals, in and out of fourth place in the Western Hockey League standings, will make another bid Wednesday for the coveted playoff spot when they entertain Seattle.

The Seals were dropped into fifth place last night by Victoria 4-0 as wing Gordon Redahl pulled off a three-goal hat trick before 5,432 fans at the Cow Palace.

Goalie Al Miller registered his third shutout of the year and his second in a week for the visiting Leafs.

The victory put Victoria one point ahead of San Francisco.

Redahl had his team ahead 2-0 by the end of the first period by converting passes from John Sleaver into scores. Sleaver accepted a pass from Redahl in the third period to score, and Redahl hit on a 2-on-1 breakaway for the final tally.

GOLF

MIAMI — Doug Sanders stormed from behind to beat Bruce Devlin by one stroke in the $70,000 Doral Invitation Tournament with a five-under-par 67 and 72-hole total of 274 and put together the first back-to-back victories on the PGA tour in nine months.

Ex-USC Star To Coach At San Jose

SAN JOSE (AP) — Two-time football All America guard and linebacker Damon Bame was named assistant line coach at San Jose State today.

Bame made All America in 1962 and 1963 for Southern California. He anchored a 1962 Trojan defense that allowed only 55 points all season and went on to defeat Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl.

Bame joins new head coach Harry Anderson, also a former USC star, but as a halfback. Ed Henke, another oustanding former USC lineman, is another Spartan assistant coach.

Tars Washed Out; Try Again Today

College of Marin's baseball team was washed out of action Saturday but will try again today.

The Tars were slated to play at Menlo Junior College Saturday but the field was too muddy. So Marin hopes for drier conditions today when the Tars play the San Francisco State junior varsity team at 3 p.m., in San Francisco.

Marin Pro Keg Team Is Beaten

The San Rafael Padres slipped out of a first place tie in Western Professional Bowling League standings yesterday when they lost to the San Francisco Knights, 18½ to 10½, at L&L Castle Lanes in San Francisco.

San Rafael now has a 6-4 record, one-half game behind Carmichael with a 6½ win, 3½ loss record. Ted Hendrickson led the victors with games of 244, 227, 231, 258 and 201 for a whopping 1,161 series.

Win Close Ones; Koufax Is Sharp

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

The mark of a championship baseball team traditionally has been considered to be an ability to win one-run games and on this basis alone the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees again look like the class of baseball in 1965.

Although the exhibition season has barely begun, both the contestants in last fall's Wo Series already have scored a pair of victories apiece by the slimmest of margins for perfect Grapefruit League records.

The Cards swept a weekend series with the New York Mets —both by the margin of a single run—yesterday in St. Petersburg with a 4-3 triumph while the Yanks checked the Baltimore Orioles 8-7 in Miami for third straight spring conquest.

St. Louis, which defeated the Yanks in the 1964 World Series, touched the winningest left-handed pitcher in baseball history, Warren Spahn, for three runs and four hits in the first three innings en route to its decision. Phil Gagliano collected three of the Redbirds' 11 hits and Series hero Bob Gibson pitched three scoreless innings.

GET SECOND VICTORY

The Bombers, traditionally slow starters who usually finish in the lower echelon of the Grapefruit standings, pounded out their second victory over the Orioles in two days Prior to its 10-2 alloping of the Birds on Saturday, New York had taken a 4-3 decision from the Washington Senators.

Sandy Koufax and Dick Radatz, two of the fastest pitchers in baseball, turned in impressive performances yesterday with different results.

Koufax, the finest hurler in the game in 1963, pitched in competition for the first time since Aug. 16 of last year and set down the first 11 Milwaukee Brave batters to face him, striking out five. He would have completed a fourth perfect inning but Hank Aaron reached base on an error, Rico Carty doubled and Joe Torre followed with a three-run blast that set the stage for a 4-2 Milwaukee victory.

Radatz, the "monster" of the Boston Red Sox bullpen, doused the Chicago Cubs with his usal fireman tactics. The burly relief artist pitched three hitless innings to gain credit for Boston's uphill 5-4 victory.

The Cleveland Indians sent war parties to both Phoenix and Palm Springs and came away with the scalps of both the San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Angels. One Tribe lashed the Giants 10-5 while another Cleveland unit defeated the Angels 5-3.

Elsewhere, outfielder Andy Kosco slammed a ninth-inning home run, Minnesota's third of the game, to lift the Twins to a 5-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers ... Pete Rose socked a two-run shot in the seventh inning to provide the Cincinnati Reds with a 5-4 triumph over the Chicago White Sox ... The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 4-0 in a rain-shortened contest behind the two-hit pitching of Bob Friend and Bob Veale ... The Mexico City Red Devils edged edged the Washington Senators for the second time in three days 8-7 ... And the Kansas City Athletics and Houston were rained out for the second straight day after the Astros carried a 1-0 lead into the bottom of the first inning.

4 Builders Share In No-Hit Win

Four Billings-Hutchison Builders pitchers combined talents yesterday to hurl a no-hitter against the San Pablo A's as the San Rafael semi-pro baseballers won, 6-0.

It was the 11th straight victory for the Builders. Skip Rush started things off for the B-H mound staff, pitching the first two innings and striking out four batters. Then Steve Miller threw for two innings and struck out five.

Next was Ron Cole who worked the fifth inning, striking out two more batters. Larry Calof pitched the last four innings and whiffed eight. That came to a grand total of 19 strikeouts by the Builders quarter.

Indy-Type Auto Track In West?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles, San Francisco and Las Vegas, Nev., have been indicated as possible sites for an Indianapolis - sized automobile race track reported in the planning stages.

The Los Angeles Herald-Examiner said Saturday that former New York Yankees co - owner Del Webb, sports car builder Carroll Shelby and Texas oilmen Jim Hall and Hap Sharp are involved in the venture.

The paper quoted a Shelby business associate, Max Muhleman, as saying the group is looking for a Southwestern locale for a $3 to $5 million, 2½-mile oval track, with seating for 100,000 fans.

Such a track could offer a 500-mile championship car race on the order of the annual Memorial Day Classic at Indianapolis Speedway, Muhleman said.

Peacock Gap Rugby Team Whips Davis

Fullback Tom Trutner, scoring seven points on a penalty kick and two conversions, led the Peacock Gap rugby team to a 19-8 victory over the Cal Agies of Davis Saturday at Peacock Gap.

NCAA SEMI-FINALISTS

Top-Ranked Michigan To Face One-Man-Gang Star

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We sure seem to bring out the best in a team," said Michigan Coach Dave Strack. "Maybe we irritate them."

If so, the mighty Wolverines, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, could be in for an interesting weekend in the NCAA championships at Portland, Ore. Friday and Saturday.

For example, the Wolverines first play Princeton and Player of the Year Bill Bradley. They've played before. Michigan escaped with a 80-78 comeback victory on Cazzie Russell's 20-foot jumper in the last few seconds.

If they get by Princeton, they'll play either Wichita or UCLA. They've played Wichita before, too, winning that one 87-85.

They haven't played UCLA. The Bruins are the defending national champions, have a veteran team that has lost only twice in two seasons and goes over the 100 mark often enough to be disturbing.

That quartet advanced to the national semifinals with Saturday triumphs in their various regionals, and only unranked Princeton had an easy time of it.

The Tigers bombed fourth-ranked Providence 109-69 for their 13th straight victory. Bradley had 41 points, picked off 10 rebounds and had nine assists in the Eastern final at College Park, Md.

Wichita, led by Kelly Pete, turned the tables on Oklahoma State and used a deliberate, ball-control game to win the Midwest final at Manhattan, Kan. 54-46.

Michigan just got by fifth-ranked Vanderbilt 87-85 in the Mideast title game at Lexington, Ky., with All-America Russell notching the go-ahead basket with less than two minutes to go. He and Bill Buntin each had 26 points.

UCLA, the No. 2 team in the nation, beat San Francisco 101-93 for the West championship in Provol Utah, All-Gail Goodrich breaking a tie with four minutes left. Goodrich had 30 points while San Francisco's Ollie Johnson had 37.

That set up an interesting national semifinal round. There's Princeton and the one-man gang Bradley, with a 22-5 record, representing the supposedly weak Ivy League and challenging for national honors.

There's Michigan, seeking to live up to its NO. 1 rating and nail down the national championship many thought it should have won a year ago. The Wolverines have a 23-3 record.

There's UCLA, gunning for a second straight national title and the top spot the Bruins have been denied all season. They take a sparkling 26-2 record into the quest for back-to-back championships.

And there's Wichita, with a first-year coach, still gamely coming back from the mid-season loss of All-America Dave Stallworth and 6-foot-10 starting center Nate Bowman.

Warriors, Celts Set Records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston is winning more, and San Francisco is enjoying it less.

The Celtics, perennial NBA powerhouse, defeated the Warriors 106-98 yesterday and in the process established a league record for most victories in a season and helped San Francisco tie the record for most losses in a season.

St. Louis topped Los Angeles 115-108, Cincinnati defeated New York 113-103 and Baltimore whipped Philadelphia 143-126 in other games.

The Celtics' victory was their 61st, one more than they won in 1961-62. They have two more games in which to extend the record.

San Francisco suffered its 62nd defeat, the same number Chicago had in the same hear Boston set its winning mark. The Warriors can take sole possession of the losing record by dropping one of their last three contests.

Sam Jones provided the punch Boston needed in the fourth quarter for the come-from-behind triumph. He scored 13 of his 22 points in that time, becoming the first Celtic to pass the 2,000-point mark in one season. John Havlicek's lay up snapped a 98-98 deadlock and put Boston ahead to stay.

St. Louis rallied in the second half behind Cliff Hagan, who had been held to six points in the first 24 minutes. He scored six more in the third quarter and poured in 18 in the final period as the Hawks erased an 83-81 Los Angeles lead.

Oscar Robertson sparked a first-quarter spurt that put Cincinnati beyond New York's reach for the rest of the game. Robertson tallied nine of his 24 points in the spree.

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain scored 51 points, but Baltimore won behind Don Ohl and Wayne Hightower in the last four minutes. The Bullets' pair led a spurt after the 76ers had pulled to within 124-122.

Fremont Is Prep Champ Of Champs

Fremont High School's Tigers, the team that whipped Redwood 71-38 in the opening round of the Tournament of Champions, is the tourney champ after beating St. Ignatius 45-36 in the finals Saturday night at Berkeley.

Hayward won third place prize after dumping Richmond 0-41, and Vallejo won the consolation trophy with a 59-47 triumph over Clayton Valley.

Named to the all-tourney team were Rich Ames, Charley Dullea and Bob Portman of St. Ignatiuns; Don Griffin and Wayne McDonald of Fremont; Norm Hodgson and Mike Reidy of Hayward; Gary Lodsdon of Clayton Valley; Jim Plump of Vallejo, and Brady Stewart of Richmond.

Rooting section awards were won by Fremont, St. Ignatius and Vallejo.

George Freese was signed a two-fold contract with the Chicago Cubs. When he isn't managing one of their minor league clubs he will act as a scout.

Santa Rosa Captures Consolation Honors

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Riverside reigned as king of the California junior college basketball world for the second straight year today after winning the 14th annual state tourney in a tense overtime struggle with Fresno City College.

Riverside captured a 69-67 thriller when Steve Barber's field goal and free throw and another charity toss by John Reed in the closing seconds of the extra stanza decided the issue. It was 65-all after the regulation play.

In the battle for third place, Contra Costa edged Imperial Valley, 93-92, despite a 39-point blast by the losers' Shaler Halimon. Al Baker's free throw with 55 seconds to go decided the contest. He led his team with 22 points.

In the consolation action, Tom Stewart's 27 points led Santa Rosa to a 63-53 win over Menlo.

The 6-foot-7 Stewart's 79 points were high for the tourney. He joined Riverside's Joe Davis and Steve Barber, Fresno's Ken Lewis and Larry Scott, and McKinley Reynolds of Contra Costa on the all-tourney team. Davis was named the outstanding player.

It was announced today that Bakersfield will be the most likely choice as the site for next year's tourney. And George Hails of Ventura was named president of the California Junior College Coaches Association.

It all began in 1866 when Mr. Jack found our pure limestone spring, running at 56° from deep under a hill. By the side of this rare possession, he built our small distillery and set about producing Tennessee sippin' whiskey.

Then in 1887, Mr. Jack's nephew, Lem Motlow, started in as a bookkeeper. But he soon learned that instead he was really cut out to be a judge of fine whiskey. So Mr. Jack taught him all he knew. And in 1911, when Mr. Jack retired, Lem Motlow took over as proprietor.

Now, Mr. Lem's sons carry on the near-century tradition of making our whiskey the old Tennessee way. And every drop is still gentled through ten feet of rick-burned, hard maple charcoal, just the way Mr. Jack always did it. So you can be sure today's Jack Daniel's has the same sippin' smoothness as this old bottle a neighbor brought by. (He found it in his attic where it had been hidden for 50 years.)

San Jose Sprinter Ties Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tommy Smith, a sophomore at San Jose State College, turned in the flashiest performance of all in a handful of track meets around the state Saturday.

Smith streaked down the 200-meter course at San Jose in 20 seconds to tie Dave Sime's world record set in 1960.

Smith also won the 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds and ran the anchor leg on San Jose's winning 400-yard relay team in a non-scoring meet with University of the Pacific and the University of California at Santa Barbara. San Jose won every event but the mile relay, taken by Santa Barbara.

UCLA's Bruins scored an upset over Occidental 93-52 in a dual meet on a wet field and in raw weather. Occidental had beaten the Bruins in six of the last seven dual affairs.

Bob Frey paced the victors with wins in the 440, 220 and anchoring the 440 - yard relay team. UCLA swept the javelin, mile run and the discus throw. Occidental took all three places in the broad and triple jumps.

In a triangular meet at Chico, Cal Aggie sprinter Mike Iverson and teammate Hank Pfrehm each won two events to lead Davis to an easy victory. The Aggies amassed 95½ point sto Chico State's 71½ and the University of San Francisco's 14. The meet also was scored as a Far Western Conference dual meet with the Aggies defeating Chico 90 1-3 to 54 2-3.

DOUBLE WINNERS

Iverson won the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Pfrehm won the shotput and discus throw.

At Sacramento, Jack Yerman of the Santa Clara Youth Village, an Olympic gold medalist in 1960, won the 440-yard dash in 47.9 seconds and anchored the winning mile relay team Also represented in the non-scoring Olympic development meet were Sacramento State College and Westmont College of Santa Barbara.

Nevada's Otis Burrell leaped 6 feet 8½ inches to set a record in the University of Nevada's Mackay Stadium in a 16-event meet with San Francisco State College.

Nevada, in winning 13 of the events, won 117-31. Vocalist Johnny Mathis set the stadium mark in 1955 at 6 feet 5½ inches as a student at San Francisco State. Burrell holds Nevada's school mark of 7 feet.

Rain in Fresno blanked out a triangular, meet for Fresno State, Los Angeles State and Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo. It was rescheduled for April 23-24.

FRENCH LEAD WORLD SKIING

By FRANK PITMAN

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — France's slalom artists, after an impressive victory yesterday, ruled favorites today in the giant slalom events against Austria and the United States in the American International Ski Races.

Jean Claude Killy, who raced away with the men's slalom crown, said, "I like this place. The snow is fantastic. I feel good. Who knows, perhaps I can repeat my victory at Davos."

The mile-long giant slalom course, with 65 gates, drops 1,-300 feet. Snow flurries were forecast for the race.

Three weeks ago Killy beat Karl Schranz of Austria in the giant slalom by a half-second. Schranz ran second to Killy in yesterday's slalom but was disqualified for missing gate 26 on the second slalom course, 2,000 feet long with 56 gates and dropping 600 feet.

The disqualification moved Heini Messner of Austria, winner of Saturday's downhill, up to second and advanced Jim Heuga of the United States tot third.

Killy clicked off his two runs in 100.42 seconds. Messner was timed in 101.68, and Heuga in 102.07. Schranz was clocked in 101.26.

Marielle Goitschel of France sailed away with first place in women's slalom by touring two courses in 99 seconds. She made the first trip through 58 gates in 50.97 seconds and the second ride through 51 gates in 48.03. Both courses, 2,000 feet long, dropped 600 feet. Annie Famose of France was second in 100.46.

The French triumphs pushed their women into the team lead with 44 points to 28 for Austria and 12 for the United Statss.

Despite Killy's triumph, the Austrian men continued far ahead in their competition with 86 points, followed by France with 47 and the United States with 34.

Bill Kidd of the United States, who placed second to Schranz on his first slalom run yesterday, spilled spectacularly on his second trip down the mountains and dashed U.S. hopes for a possible first. He failed to finish after somersaulting three times in a 50-yard tumble down the steep course.

Linda Meyers, America's most experienced competitor at 27 years of age, was the top U.S. finisher in women's slalom with No. 5 placing and 102.49 seconds, 3½ seconds behind Miss Goitschel.

Louis In Hospital For Routine Exam

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Former boxing champ Joe Louis is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for what his physician said was a routine checkup. Louis is 51.

SPORTS CALENDAR

A Busy Week For Marin Athletes

Another busy calendar of spring sports is on tap for College of Marin and high schools in Marin County this week.

Action will run throughout the week, with at least two events scheduled for each day. Heaviest days on the week's scheduled are Tuesday and Friday, with 15 events scheduled Tuesday and another 12 on Friday.

Baseball, track and field, golf and tennis will all be non-league encounters, but swimming gets down to Marin Athletic League action on Friday. In first round swimming meets, Redwood will be at Tamalpais, Terra Linda at San Rafael, and Drake at Novato, all three meets slated to start at 4 p.m.

It will be the first meet for Novato, as its new pool was not completed until last year. Novato, you may say, will be getting its feet wet in Marin Athletic League swimming action.

The cindermen at College of Marin will get a preview of what to expect in conference action. The Tars will be performing in the Golden Valley Conference Relays Saturday at Santa Rosa. It's scheduled to start at 1 p.m.

Diver Wins, But It Wasn't Easy

Brown Asks Attack On Cigarette Hazard

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today released a report calling for a six-point attack on cigarette-smoking as a health hazard, including recommendations the cigarette tax be increased to finance non-smoking programs.

Brown also called for legislation designed to stimulate research toward producing a "safe" cigarette and to make civil suits against tobacco companies by lung cancer plaintiffs more actionable.

The governor already has called for an increase in the state's cigarette tax from 3 cents to 8 cents a pack, but the revenues, thus far, would go for general budget balancing purposes.

The advisory committee on cigarette smoking and health, after more than a year of study, recommended:

1. State development of a coordinated program of action to inform Californians of the health hazards of cigarette smoking and to control use of cigarettes.

2. Appointment of a committee to guide a program of action.

3. Obtain funds for the program by increasing cigarette tax.

4. Establish and financially support a coordinated research program into tobacco and health.

5. Establish and financially support community service centers in which withdrawal clinics, professional and community education and consultation services be provided.

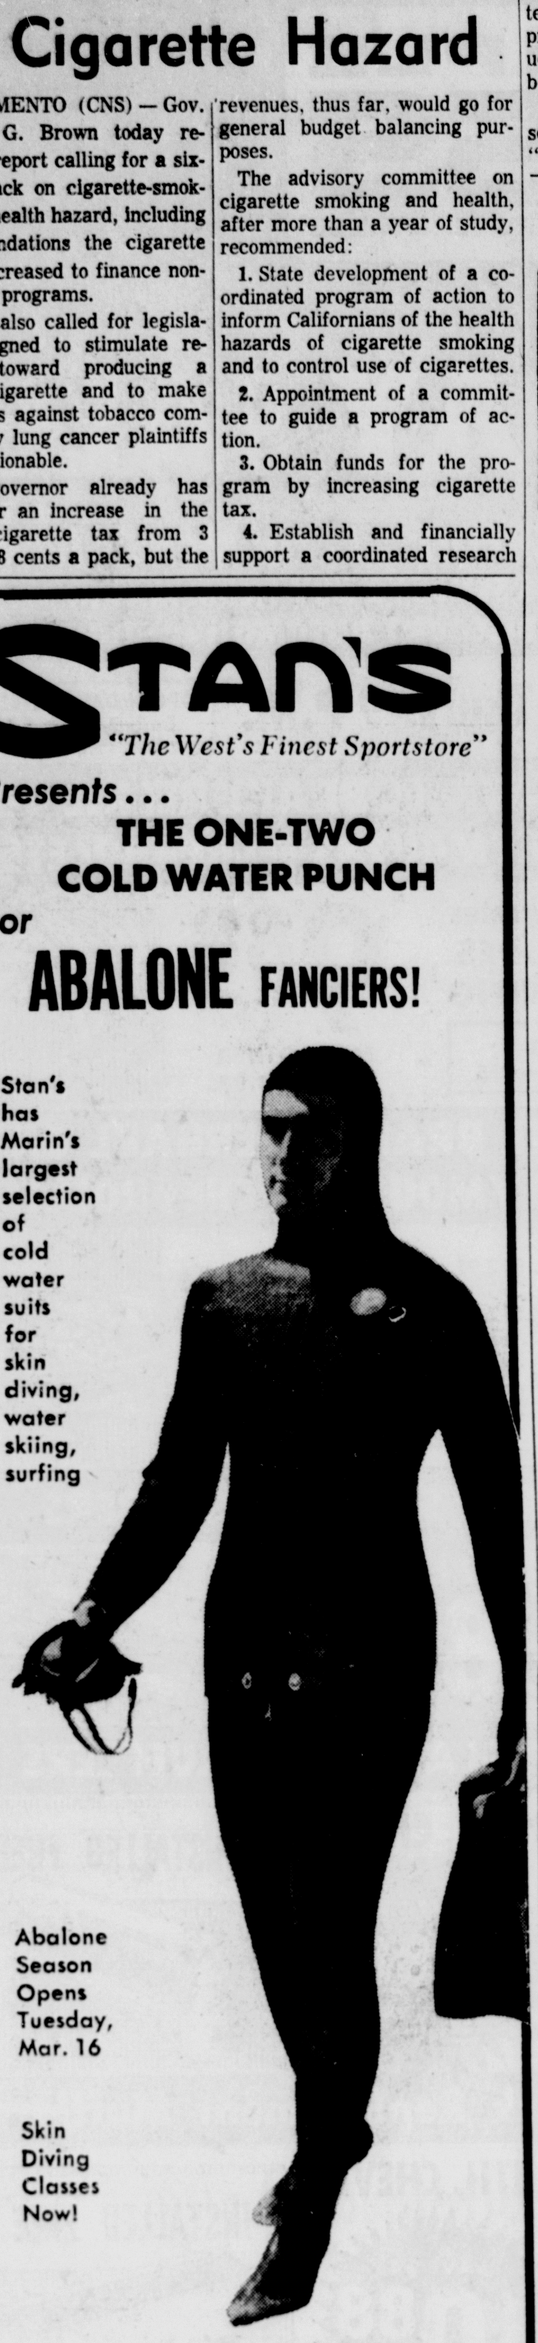

6. Legislation to stimulate research toward producing a "safe" cigarette and make civil suits against tobacco companies by lung cancer plaintiffs more actionable.

Contralto's Half Century Of Memories

EDITOR'S NOTE: Half a century ago, Marian Anderson started singing publicly. On Easter Sunday she will give her last American concert at Carnegie Hall in New York City. She made her Bay Area farewell at a concert in San Francisco on Thursday. In an interview, Miss Anderson talks about the memories she will carry into an active retirement.

By MARGARET BANCROFT

NEW YORK (UPI)—She has sung before kings, queens and presidents. Golden medals and trophies are hers. Days of triumph, crescendos of applause, seas of clapping hands fill her memory.

But the day that stands out above all days in the memory of Marian Anderson is no day of public acclaim. On the eve of her retirement, she remembers back to Philadelphia, where she was born, and to a time in her life when she was a young woman just beginning her singing career.

SHE REMEMBERS the day she was able to tell her widowed mother that she need never go back to work. The slight earnings Marian Anderson made from giving singing lessons and appearing in local concerts could help pay the family bills.

"That day made us feel 10 feet tall," she recalls, referring to herself as she invariably does as "we" rather than "I."

MARIAN ANDERSON

"Our mother was a wonderful, gentle soul who gave much in excess of what she needed to give. She was badly treated at work. It made one feel wonderful to alleviate troubles, inconsideration and injustice.

IN HER GENTLE way, Miss Anderson has devoted her life to alleviating troubles, inconsideration and injustice.

She is a Negro and she has been hurt because of her race. But Marian Anderson is no militant battler for civil rights. She sues for peace instead of war and she rebukes anger with gentility. She chooses to help her race by proving that a Negro can sing in any concert hall in the world.

Miss Anderson has not always found every concert hall open to her. In 1939, after successful tours in Europe and the U.S, the Daughters of the American Revolution refused to let her sing in their Constitution Hall in Washington. There were angry words and headlines.

In protest, the President's wife, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, resigned from the DAR. The government offered Miss Anderson the use of the Lincoln Memorial.

IT WAS EASTER Sunday and 75,000 Americans flocked to the steps of the memorial to see Miss Anderson stand in front of the great, brooding statue of Abraham Lincoln and to hear her sing. She seemed to sing out that day for tolerance, for dignity, for acceptance. Her gentility triumphed.

Miss Anderson triumphed again for her race in 1954 when the famed Metropolitan Opera Association in New York City sent a brief announcement to the press.

"Marian Anderson will sing at the Metropolitan Opera this season, Rudolph Bing announced yesterday," it read.

IT SIGNALED THE end of a subtle race barrier at the Met and the beginning of an era when Negroes could hope for important operatic careers in this country.

"One is speechless with happiness," Miss Anderson said at the time, refusing to deliver a lecture on racial discrimination.

IN HER CAREER, Miss Anderson has won honorary degrees from such colleges as Princeton, Mount Holyoke and New York She has sung three times at the

The engagement of Sarah Stokes Page to Stephen Brooks Herrick has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Page, who made the announcement at an open house at their home in San Francisco on Saturday.

The bride-elect, who is known as Sally, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Harry D. Johnson of Marin and the late Mr. Johnson. She was graduated from the Katherine Delmar Burke School and Vassar College and is a member of the Spinsters.

Stephen is the son of Stephen G. Herrick of Berkeley and Mrs. Emmett D. O'Donnell of Corona del Mar. He was graduated from University High School in Los Angeles and University of California, where his fraternity was Beta Theta Pi. He is a member of the Bachelors.

He is the brother of Mrs. Alan Clark, Andrea Michael and Jerome Herrick and John and Robert Herreshoff.

The couple is planning a wedding Sept. 11 at the Episcopal Church of St. Mary the Virgin in San Francisco.

Tea To Honor Generals' Wives

Mrs. C. F. Necrason and Mrs. Carroll W. McColpin will be guests of honor at a tea sponsored by the Officers Wives Club Council at Hamilton Air Force Base from 2 to 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Major General Necrason, commander of the 28th Air Division, will be retiring from his command in the Air Force on April 1, but will not leave Hamilton until June 1.

Brigadier General McColpin will assume General Necrason's command on April 1. At that time Mrs. McColpin will become honorary president of the Officers Wives Club, succeeding Mrs. Necrason.

Mrs. Necrason has been active in the American Red Cross, Family Services and the Thrift Shop while at Hamilton. She came to Hamilton in July of 1961. She was chairman of the Air Force Village Foundation drive held in November and December. The foundation is for Air Force officers widows.

The Necrasons will not be moving out of the area as they are building a new home on Indian Valley Ranch in Novato. They have two daughters, Sandra Ann, a freshman at Santa Clara Universiyt and she was one of last year's debs at Hamilton and Virginia Leigh, a student at Dominican.

Mrs. Norris Brill, president of the Officers Wives Club will also be in the receiving line with Mrs. Necrason and Mrs. Brill.

Mrs. Kenneth Gunnarson, first vice president of the club, will be chairman of the tea, assisted by council members.

TAM CENTRE JINKS TIME SET FRIDAY

The annual jinks of the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club will be given at the clubhouse in Kentfield on Friday at 2 p.m., when an amusing skit will be presented by each section.

The president Mrs. Lewis Deu Pree, and Mrs. C. C. Miller, will be in charge of the main section. Mrs. Thomas P. Cusick will head the garden section, and Mrs. George R. Weymouth the drama-literary section. Mrs. William Fusselman will narrate, with Mrs. Elmer Jones playing the piano.

Tea will be served by Mrs. H. L. Shadle, assisted by Mesdames Wendell Jordan, Harry Calkins, Gustin K. Burgren, Henry J. Thomas and Walter Shawyer. Mrs. Alan B. Hicks and Mrs. G. B. Kenny will pour tea.

Lighting Topic For Construction Chapter's Dinner

University. Japan's Emperor Hirohito has decorated her and she has been given Sweden's "Literris et Artibus" medal. She has sung three times at the White House, the second time for King George VI and his daughter, Elizabeth, who was to become queen.

Arturo Toscanini told her, "a voice like yours is heard only once in 100 years."

She has sung "La Marseillaise" for French President Charles de Gaulle and she was called to New York to sing "The Star Spangled Banner" at the city's V-E Day reception for then Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. When he became President, he appointed her to the United Nations as a delegate.

IN RETIREMENT, Miss Anderson plans to spend more time on her Connecticut farm with her husband, an architect. She is also thinking of ways she might help children.

"We have been before the public for a number of years," she says. "One would like to get into another stream, to roll up one's sleeves, to do some actual work."

Miss Anderson says she would like to help in some way with the school dropout problem and that she would also like to help adopted children.

"A PERSON has to be busy to be alive," she says. "One gives because one wishes to do it. It is a mighty fine thing to put your head on a pillow at night and realize you've done something good."

Litter Cleanup Runs Afoul Of Administrative Planning

County government, like any big corporation, needs a county administrator to execute the policies laid down by the board of supervisors.

And the county administrator does play a big role in relieving the supervisors of much of the daily routine of running the government.

But the same administrator, who normally expedites county administration, can sometimes become bogged down in such official red tape that he becomes a bottleneck rather than an expediter.

We have in mind the recent decision by the Marin County supervisors to have eyesores eliminated and litter picked up along county highways.

The idea was to try to get county jail inmates, juvenile offenders and prisoners from the Hamilton Field stockade to do the work, with the department of public works supervising the details.

We see no need to spend a month working out a plan to pick up trash off the roadsides. Such projects have been done off and on for years, and long before we ever had an office of county administrator.

We can't see how a highly paid official ($21,000 per year) with a staff would need a month to start a litter pickup project when a supervising officer with a jail trusty and several inmates could start to work almost on a moment's notice.

It is true that if airmen at the Hamilton stockade and youngsters at juvenile hall are to be included in the cleanup campaign, some time and effort would be needed to clear through official channels.

But even then, a month appears to be unnecessary procrastination.

Litter cleanup is not an elaborate project where one little slip in advance planning can result in irreparable harm or expense.

Work crews with a truck should be able to start on any roadside and improvise if they run up against any problems. No harm can come if some litter is overlooked, or an inefficiency crops up after an operation is launched.

To ask for a month's "advance planning" before crews can be sent to pick up beer cans off roadsides borders on the ridiculous.

Nature And Marinites

Marinites, as a whole, are Nature lovers. It is to be intimate with Nature that many of us undergo the daily ordeal of commuting.

There is something of the pioneer spirit in most of us. We are a nation of Daniel Boones; each hankering for his cabin in the wilderness and his little bit of land. We love to get our hands in the soil and have a part in helping things grow.

We love the grass, the trees, the birds, the flowers—all the outdoors. We are the ones who could never be happy cramped in a city apartment, looking at other people's washing and rooftops, intimate with garbage cans and exhaust fumes.

Some of us searched far and wide before we found the spot for us — Marin.

'KERR MUST GO'

Hughie-Jesse Duet Sings Glum Song Of Cal Discipline Needs

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, president pro tem of the State Senate, said he thought it was inevitable that the "president of the university (of California) and the top brass in the administration must go."

BURNS' COMMENT came during his weekly televised press conference with Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood. Unruh said he felt much of the problem which resulted in the resignations of Dr. Clark Kerr, as university president, and Dr. Martin Meyerson, as chancellor of the Berkeley campus, stemmed from the failure of the faculty to cooperate and assume its responsibilities. (The resignations have been withdrawn since then.)

As for the resignations, Burns said he saw "no other way in which they are going to correct and remedy the trouble that they have now, except to begin from the very beginning."

"The president of the university brought some of this upon himself by his lack of action—more guilty of the sin of omission rather than commission," Burns said. "What he has done has been to neglect the use of the facilities that he has to prevent situations that are now occurring on the campus of the university.

"His predecessor set up a series of security and loyalty checks which were available to him, but he has not seen fit to do it and the state of anarchy has slowly developed on the university's campus," he said. "It has reached the point now where drastic action must be taken. Disciplinary measures and rules must be set up and a new approach taken."

AS AN EXAMPLE of the lack of use of security measures, Burns said a former national head of the Communist youth movement was employed in a teaching position at the university. Burns declined to give the name of the teacher but said it would be included, with documented information, in a forthcoming report of his Senate Un-American Activities Committee.

Unruh said he felt a decision must be made soon as to whether the university, including the faculty, is able to solve its own problems of discipline or whether other forces will have to be put in to accomplish the job. He said he felt it was imperative that any administrator should have support of the majority of the faculty.

"THIS HAS NOT been developed yet," Unruh said. "The faculty has been, at this point at least, remiss in accepting their responsibilities. Maybe remiss is the wrong word.

"They are so badly splintered up themselves that they seem not to be able to move with any cohesiveness in any direction," he said, "and I think the decision will have to be made before too long as to whether the university may not have to be set back in its educational level in order to achieve this discipline."

Unruh said he thought the settling of the problems by moving in an outside force would do "some injury to the internal liberties and the level of learning and freedom of inquiry on the campus."

The speaker said he thought moving in someone else to achieve the discipline would have "nothing but disastrous consequences for at least the short-run future of the university."

"I WOULD HOPE that perhaps the university community would recognize the dilemma that they are now in and move in that direction," Unruh said.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Stop Throwing So Much Mud

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re Mrs. Short's letter (March 8), to me "the most shocking thing" about the unification campaign in the Tam District is the willingness of those who favor the plan to impute bad faith on those who oppose it, particularly the accusations that the opponents are all selfish people who are trying to keep all their wealth and better education programs to themselves and that the school trustees are selfishly trying to keep their seats on their local school boards at all costs. Certainly this implies that the trustees (who are all unpaid, hardworking people) are looking at unification with a "the children be damned!" attitude, and that is not only unfair but untrue. . . .

IF administration is reduced, HOW will this reduce the number of administrators and the costs involved? The law provides that ALL of them will be retained for at least two years or until expiration of their contracts, if longer. . . . Let us all try to be fair and honest and to see each other's point of view without throwing so much mud that we will never be able to clean up the mess thus made.

West Marinites Againt Unification

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We are against the total unification of the Tamalpais High School District for the following reasons:

Living in an isolated area, the special needs of our children will not be considered.

The close relationship that has bonded teacher, student, and parent interests will be lost in a large unified district over the hill.

. . . We feel our grade schools have many advantages over the city schools. A disinterested, busy city school board, even now, bypasses the essential needs of our students . . .

The minimal school tax we now enjoy gives our district excellent educational advantages tailored to our special needs . . .

We favor smaller districts with active community participation at the local level. We all want a unified Western Marin School District, perhaps in the Olema area, when the population growth warrants it.

Fulbright Plan Called Asinine

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is not uncommon to read or hear asinine statements from the Democrat - Socialist camp, but the most recent proposal by Sen. J. William Fulbright deserves special recognition.

Kennedy scuttled the Monroe Doctrine through incompetence and indecision at the Bay of Pigs. Mr. Fulbright now advocates that we invite the Russians to meddle in the Western Hemisphere by joint venturing a new Panama Canal or sharing the present one; this is sheer insanity. . . .

We have had four Democratic presidents since 1933; Roosevelt and W.W. II, Truman and the Korean police action, Kennedy and the Cuban fiasco and Johnson and the Viet Nam mess. . . .

How long will it take before the American people wake up and start electing patriots, conservative representatives instead of professional, socialistic politicians who buy votes with the taxpayers' dollars and by catering to various special interest groups?

Five Factors Cited Against Marincello

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The following information gathered from news articles in the Independent-Journal over the last three weeks leads me to oppose the Marincello plan. I have written to the Board of Supervisors asking them to reconsider their action and urge all Marin citizens who oppose Marincello to express their opinions to the Board.

1. The Sausalito City Council, by unanimous resolution, has asked the county government to reject the Marincello proposal.

2. Dean Martin Meyerson has withdrawn as consultant.

3. Undersecretary of the Interior John Garver has expressed misgivings as to the impact of the proposed "mixture of industry and tower apartments" on plans for the Golden Gate Headlands Park.

4. Interest has been aroused in California and the rest of the United States in preserving all of this unique area as part of the national heritage; it's a local responsibility for all of us to play a decisive role in its protection.

5. If the project is adversely effected by a local or national economic slump, the Marin taxpayer is left holding the bag.

BENNETT CERF

A WEALTHY playwright in Westchester was showing a Japanese visitor his estate, and saved for the piece de resistance a brand new Japanese garden he just had installed. The Japanese visitor was properly impressed. "It's marvelous," he exclaimed. "If we only had something like it in Japan!"

BACK WHEN Grover Cleveland was President, Speaker of the House of Representatives Tom Reed was famous for his wit. When two Congressmen became involved in a bitter and inconsequential argument, Reed remarked, "Those two never open their mouths without subtracting from the sum of human knowledge." He labeled an overdressed, verbose adversary, "a thing of beauty and a jaw forever." Asked once if he thought he had a chance for the Republican nomination for President, Speaker Reed answered, "They could look much farther and do much worse—and I think they will!"

THE BRIDGE OF SIGNS: On the door of a marriage license bureau: "Out to lunch. Think it over."

Outside a fancy Chinese-American restaurant: "We chop our own suey."

On the window of a closed haberdashery: "We undersold everybody."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Four Republicans Willing, Able To Fight For White House In '68

WASHINGTON — You might think the most ardent goal of Republicans would be to avoid the 1968 presidential nomination.

NOT SO. The maneuvering is already getting under way. That's good. It means the nomination is not going to go by default.

Would any Republican step out to pick up the pieces after what happened last November? There might have been no answer to that question as recently as a month ago. But the numbing effect of the 1964 defeat is wearing off. Today there are at least four active contenders for the '68 nomination:

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, whom many political professionals see as the most likely prospect.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who is now putting together a political staff qualified to run a national campaign.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, of New York, whose zest for battle seems undimmed.

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, who has every incentive to want to show how differently he would go after the nomination than he did in 1964.

THIS WILL MAKE for formidable competition, at least in the earlier stages of the preconvention campaign.

The most formidable and the most active is Mr. Nixon, who has on his side a mature youthfulness, party regularity, and experience both in office and in campaigning.

The word from New York is that Nixon is cutting down the time he is devoting to his law practice so that he can devote more time to his political practice. He is turning up at Republican gatherings all over the country.

He has two special assets. He is the best known of all Republican speakers. He has the genuine gratitude of nearly all the Goldwater workers and supporters because he fought harder for Barry Goldwater's election than anyone but Goldwater himself.

LESS VISIBLE, but in a good strategic position, is Governor Romney. He has many of the assets which make for a strong nominee.

Twice elected governor of the populous Midwestern state of Michigan; re-elected last November by a larger majority despite the fact that President Lyndon B. Johnson swept the state; a strong appeal to Democratic, independent and Negro voters.

He will undoubtedly run for re-election in 1966, this time for a four-year term. Barring the unforeseeable, Romney will almost certainly win a third term and will thus have demonstrated his consistent electability in a kind of state a Republican needs to be able to carry in order to win a presidential election.

Romney is by no means the darling of the most partisan Republicans, because he has never been a slavish partisan himself. But many believe that his is the kind of above-party appeal the GOP will need to adopt if it is to have any fair chance of winning in 1968.

ROCKEFELLER WILL be fighting an uphill battle, particularly because of his strife with a Democratic legislature in Albany.

Governor Scranton's plans are uncertain. He is understandably distressed at the image he created in the brief, bitter fight with Senator Goldwater. He will be out of office in another year, but not necessarily out of the picture.

The Republican nomination will not go begging.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Israel May Purchase British Armaments

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The British Labor government is being vigorously pressed by the Johnson administration to provide Israel with the arms recently shut off by West Germany.

LONDON'S INITIAL reaction has been favorable.

So much so, that Prime Minister Levi Eshkol is scheduled to fly to Britain March 23 for direct discussions on his country's urgent weapons needs and measures to meet them.

Israel is seeking some 250 tanks, a large number of armored personnel carriers, late-model jet interceptors and fast and powerfully-armed naval patrol craft to maintain the "balance of arms" which is being drastically upset by large-scale weapons agreements between Russia, Egypt, Syria and Iraq.

The three Arab powers are being massively armed with hundreds of tanks, modern jets and other heavy weapons.

While Britain has indicated willingness to supplant West Germany in providing Israel with armor and naval equipment, the backstage talks have not resolved the equally important question of jet interceptors.

ISRAEL HAS proposed the U.S. sell it "more than 100" F-100 series fighters. So far, the Johnson administration has shied from a decision on that.

All the armaments sought by Israel would be bought.

Key factors in the Labor government's favorable attitude are:

1. Such large weapons purchases would be a definite stimulant to Britain's sluggish economy and lagging exports; and 2. reinforcing Israel would directly counter Egyptian dictator Gamal Nasser's aim to gain control of the oil-rich sheikdoms adjoining Aden, Britain's crucially strategic stronghold on the southwest tip of the Arabian peninsula.

IN THE PLANS under discussion, both the U.S. and West Germany would play major roles in financing Israel's weapons purchases.

In the U.S. an unnoticed provision in last year's multi-billion-dollar military appropriation measure opens the way for additional Israeli credits.

A strong reason it may be is the growing alarm in Washington and London over the immense flood of arms Russia is pouring into Egypt, Syria and Iraq. Among them, they now have more than 2,000 Soviet tanks and around 900 combat planes.

Further, Egypt has just concluded a new deal with Moscow for the delivery of more than $100 million in tanks, planes, naval craft and other armaments in the next two years.

Intelligence has reported this agreement includes ground-to-ground missiles to compensate for shortcomings in Nasser's ineffectual rocket program.

During Ambassador Averell Harriman's recent fact-finding visit to Tel Aviv, Israeli officials stated the termination of West Germany's arms supplies and Nasser's latest weapons agreement with Russia would mean a decisive shift in the Middle East "arms balance" in the next 12 months.

This confronts Israel with two urgent decisions: To act immediately against Egypt and the other Arab powers, or to find other sources of arms.

THE ISRAELI grimly made it clear they consider their national life at stake and mean business. They bluntly told Harriman either they get help from the U.S. and Britain, or they would have to proceed accordingly.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRANK FARRARA

Being Civic Center Guide Looks Like Job With Future

THERE SOON will be an innovation at the Marin Civic Center, guides for visitors.

Supervisors agreed to start a pilot program that will provide college students as guides on weekends and holidays, and if all goes well the program will become well established.

Since this is a start, it brings to mind how other county functions come into being, and expand and expand and expand.

THE GUIDE program is not likely to grow into a major arm of county government, but it can serve to illustrate how government programs grow.

If the guide program followed the usual growth pattern, it would grow something like this:

JULY, 1969 — Marin County Civic Center guides add a mounted division because of the wide area to be covered at the Civic Center, including the fairgrounds.

July, 1970—A seven-member Civic Center Guide Commission formed to serve as an advisory group to county supervisors on all matters involving guides, ushers and sight-seeing buses at the Civic Center.

MARCH, 1971—Marin County supervisors agree to furnish guide service to cities on a cost-plus basis to help defray the mounting costs.

August, 1972—The Guide Division of the Public Works Department is elevated to full department status, and the personnel department authorized to recruit at Disneyland, the World's Fair and Radio City for a department head.

September, 1974 — Marin County's Guide and Mounted Guide Band receives a bid to march in the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena.

DECEMBER, 1975 — The Marin County Grand Jury launches an investigation into charges that Civic Center guides are pocketing excessive tips.

October, 1980—Marin County supervisors approve a two-million-dollar dormitory for guides as the third wing of the Civic Center.

May, 1983—The Civic Center Guide staff increased by 50 per cent because there aren't enough guides available to guide visitors on tours of the new dormitory for guides.

REMEMBER WHEN?

20 YEARS AGO

After checking 18 Monterey canneries, a group of Marin County business men, county officials and civic leaders returned home to frankly assert they could see nothing objectionable to establishing a tuna and sardine cannery at Waldo Point.

San Rafael city councilmen refused by 4-1 vote to put on the municipal election ballot a charter amendment to pay councilmen $25 a month salary. Only Councilman Edward A. Culver favored the referendum proposed by the Marin Central Labor Council.

ART BUCHWALD

Russ Resort To Mercenaries For Embassy Wrecking Chores

WASHINGTON — The recent student attacks on the American embassy in Moscow had some very interesting sidelights. It was reported that all the students who demonstrated against the embassy were foreigners, mostly from Asia and Africa.

FROM A VERY reliable source, we have learned that the Russians are now hiring mercenaries to attack our embassy rather than using Soviet students.

The reason for it is quite simple. The Soviet government has discovered that the student demonstrations have been interfering with the studies of its youth. There have been so many man-hours lost to attacks on the American embassy that the Russians are afraid that they may not have a graduating class this June at Moscow University.

A shake-up in the Soviet Bureau of Spontaneous Demonstrations took place about a month ago and a new commissar, named Serge Brakevitch, was appointed to the post.

THE SOVIET students called the ruling arbitrary and unfair. They pointed out that Chinese students, Bulgarian students, and Czechoslovakian students were permitted to demonstrate with a D average and in some cases those who were flunking out were allowed to attend.

But Commissar Brakevitch was firm in his decision.

In discussing the protest with the students, he said, "Demonstrating against the American embassy is a privilege, not a right. It is a reward for good grades. I'm not going to permit students to enjoy themselves breaking windows and throwing ink bottles when they are not willing to work in school for it."

The Moscow University students called a mass meeting and voted to boycott all demonstrations against the American embassy until the order about grades was rescinded.

THIS PUT the Soviet government in a spot. If they called for a demonstration against the American embassy and no one showed up, it would be very embarrassing for them.

To make matters worse, a few days after the boycott the United States started bombing North Viet Nam and it was imperative that the Soviets hold a demonstration.

Brakevitch was told to get one going. Since he couldn't get any Soviet students, he went to Lumumba University, where Asian and African students were studying, and asked them if they would be willing to hold the demonstration. The foreign students agreed to do it, and they were issued ink bottles, bricks, stones and Molotov cocktails.

IN THE MEANTIME, Foreign Minister Gromyko had prepared an apology for the American ambassador, Foy Kohler, to be given to him as soon as Kohler protested.

But something went wrong with the demonstration. The foreign students in Moscow thought they were supposed to attack the Soviet police as well as the embassy, and the police were forced to fight back, knocking down many of the students. This brought protests from the students' embassies and the Soviet Union was forced to apologize to their Communist friends as well.

Brakevitch has now been relieved of his post and the Soviets are looking for a new Commissar of Spontaneous Demonstrations.

THERE IS TALK that Nikita Khrushchev may be called back from retirement for the job.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

Andrew Jackson, seventh president of the U.S. was born on this day in 1767.

On this day in history:

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Good Bridge Player Needs Reliable Nose For Game

If you're in training to be a wine taster you need a very delicate nose, and today's bridge hand may not help you very much.

If you just want to play good bridge all you need from your nose is the ability to smell fish.

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ K

Suppose you put yourself in the West seat. You lead the king of spades, and your partner plays the deuce or the three. (Experts differ on which card East should play in this situation.)

FIRST TRICK

South wins the first trick with the ace of spades and leads the deuce of clubs. Right here your nose should speak up, announcing: "Herring!"

Why is South tackling an obviously weak club suit instead of setting up dummy's long diamonds? Unless South is an absolute beginner there can be only one answer to this question:

The diamonds are already set up, and South is trying to steal his ninth trick before the defenders know what is going on.

STEPS UP

If West's nose warns him that something fishy is going on, he will step up with the ace of clubs and cash the queen of spades. South must drop the jack of spades, and West defeats the contract with the rest of the spades.

South would make his contract if West played a low club at the second trick.

Dummy's queen of clubs would win, and declarer would then run five diamonds and two hearts, winning the first nine tricks.

TOUCHING CLUBS

South cannot make the contract by running the diamonds before touching the clubs. East discards his two remaining spades to tell West what he can; and West sees that the jack is unguarded. West's first discard is a heart, and he can then discard two clubs since by that time he knows the whole story.

In general, whenever declarer at a notrump contract starts a weak suit instead of working on dummy's long suit, the defenders should assume that the long suit is already established.

They may have to take their tricks while the taking is good.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ Q 10 8 6 5
♣ 8 7 6

What do you say?

Answer: Pass with most partners; bid two hearts with a conservative partner.

You are probably better off at two hearts than your partner would be at one notrump, but you cannot be quite sure that your response of two hearts will be passed. If partner is doubled at one no-trump you should bid two hearts.

OPPORTUNITY UNLIMITED
The nation's largest, most successful building organization in its field is continuing its expansion in the Northern California area. The management consultant firm for this company has been asked to interview and select men for appointment to an ambitious sales management training program. This multi-million-dollar-a-year sales group, with offices in 46 major California markets, is scheduled to open 10 new offices in the immediate future. There are openings NOW for presently successful advertising, real estate, insurance, construction and other professional sales representatives desiring an unlimited opportunity to assume management responsibility and higher financial reward. (Real Estate Licenses not required.) Men chosen will work closely with sales managers of established offices. They will complete a highly personalized training and orientation program with extremely high earnings (commission). Future plans for successful applicants include rapid elevation to positions of ownership & management in new offices. Monday & Tuesday, March 15th-16th, 2 p.m. SHARP, 814 Grant Ave., Novato.

When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

• The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.

• The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!

• NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

Get Away
from it all when you drive across the bridge to this new 7 room home. Having a creek across the front (that's why the bridge) and down one side effectively shuts out the rest of the world and yet you are just a minute or two from shops and buses. The house has 3 bedrooms, 2 streamlined baths, a sewing-utility room, dining room overlooking the patio, a well arranged G.E. kitchen, and a large living room with beamed ceiling and used brick fireplace. The owner has been transferred and the price is just $34,950.

ABSOLUTE PRIVACY
Listed today, this is one of the most interesting properties we've ever seen! On a level knoll top with a view for miles, and almost ½ acre of land. Room for a pool and just about everything else. The home is in good condition structurally, but the decor and finishing are neglected and incomplete. A really top buy at the price. FIVE BEDROOMS. A must-see at $28,950.

A Family Home
is fine for the kids—but where do Mom and Dad relax? Surely not amid the tinker toys—Watusi practice—or Scout sessions! So how about this house which has that necessary FAMILY ROOM and also has a DELIGHTFUL DEN off the living room? Three bedrooms for the family's quieter moments and two large baths—the electric kitchen well placed in the center of the house—the dining room very large and with its own fireplace. Off the handsome living room is a view deck and one of Nature's loveliest madrone trees. It's a real family home—and it's also a bargain at $25,950. Call us today to see it.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN ORDINANCE NO. 1416 ORDINANCE CODIFYING COUNTY ORDINANCES AND ADOPTING MARIN COUNTY CODE, SETTING FORTH DEFINITIONS, PROVIDING FOR ENFORCEMENT THEREOF AND PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION THEREOF

SECTION 1. The ordinances of the County of Marin, heretofore compiled, consolidated and arranged as a comprehensive ordinance Code, three copies of which are on file in the office of the County Clerk of Marin County, are, pursuant to Government Code Section 25127, hereby codified, and said ordinance Code is hereby adopted, by reference, as the Marin County Code.

SECTION 2. The following sections are hereby added to said code:

1.04.010 Title of code. This code shall be known as the Marin County Code.

1.04.020 Citing in prosecutions. In any prosecution for the violation of any provision of this code, it shall be sufficient to refer to the code as the Marin County Code.

1.04.030 Amendatory ordinances. Any ordinance adding to, amending or repealing this code shall be designated as an addition or amendment to, or repeal of, the Marin County Code, and shall be adopted in the manner and form provided by Section 25129 of the Government Code.

1.04.040 Effect of former ordinances. The provisions of this code, insofar as they are substantially the same as existing ordinance provisions relating to the same subject matter, shall be construed as restatements and continuations thereof and not as new enactments.

1.04.050 Prior ordinance violations. Prosecution for violation of ordinances committed prior to the effective date of this code shall not be affected by the adoption of the code.

1.04.060 Prior licenses and penalties. The adoption of this code shall not be construed as a waiver of any license or penalty due and unpaid under any ordinance at the effective date of the code; nor shall such adoption be construed as affecting any provision of such ordinance relating to the collection of any such license or penalty or the penal provisions applicable to the violation thereof.

1.04.070 Prior bonds and deposits. The adoption of this code shall not affect the validity of any bond or cash deposit required to be posted, filed or deposited pursuant to such ordinance; and all rights and obligations thereunder shall continue in full force and effect.

1.04.080 Matters of record. This code shall not affect deposits or other matters of record which refer to, or are otherwise connected with, ordinances which are therein specially designated by number or otherwise and which are included in the code; but such references shall be construed to apply to the corresponding provisions of the code.

1.04.090 Construction generally. The provisions of this code and all proceedings under it are to be construed to effect its object and to promote justice.

1.04.100 Headings. Title, chapter, and section headings contained herein shall not govern, limit, modify or affect the scope, meaning or intent of the provisions of this code.

1.04.110 Territorial limitation. This code shall refer only to the omission or commission of acts within the unincorporated limits of the County of Marin and such other territory over which the County has jurisdiction or control by virtue of the constitution, or any law, or by reason of ownership or control of property.

1.04.120 Local signification. All references in this code to places, acts, persons or things and all else in relation to this code shall be construed to mean that the same are applicable to this County, whether the County is mentioned in each particular section or not.

1.04.130 Titles. The use of the title of any officer, employee, office, department, board, commission or ordinance shall mean such officer, employee, office, department, board, commission or ordinance of the County of Marin, unless otherwise designated.

1.04.140 Definitions. As used in this code, unless a different meaning is apparent from the context or is specified elsewhere in the code:

COUNTY means the County of Marin, California.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS means the Board of Supervisors of Marin County.

OATH includes affirmation.

PERSON means and includes natural person, corporation, company, firm, association, organization, copartnership, joint venture, trust, business trust, syndicate, estate, receiver, society, club, fraternal organization, any group or combination acting as a unit, and officer, agent, employee and servant of any of the foregoing.

SECTION, CHAPTER and TITLE mean, respectively, section, chapter and title of this code.

SHALL and MUST are mandatory and MAY is permissive.

WRITTEN includes every form of legible recording.

1.04.150 Undefined words. Words and phrases not defined in this code are construed according to the context and approved usage of the language.

1.04.160 Number. The singular number includes the plural, and the plural includes the singular.

1.04.180 Tense. Words used in the present tense include the future.

1.04.190 Severability. If any provision of this code, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of this code, or the application thereof to other persons and circumstances shall not be affected thereby; and, to this end, the provisions of this code are declared to be severable.

1.04.200 Violation declared misdemeanor. Any person who violates or willfully fails to comply with any provision of this code is guilty of a misdemeanor.

1.04.210 Continuing violation. Each person, firm or corporation shall be deemed guilty of a separate offense for each day or portion thereof during which any violation of any provision of this code is committed, continued or permitted, by such person, firm or corporation, and shall be punishable therefor as herein provided.

1.04.220 Penalty for violation. Any person convicted of a misdemeanor under the provisions of this code (unless otherwise provided herein) shall be punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed six months, or by a fine of not to exceed five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

1.04.230 Abatement of nuisance. In addition to the penalties herein provided, any condition caused or permitted to exist in violation of any of the provisions of this code shall be deemed a public nuisance and may be abated as such, in accordance with applicable law.

1.04.240 Service of notices. Whenever a notice is required to be given under this code (unless different provisions are otherwise specifically made herein) such notice may be given either by personal delivery thereof to the person to be notified or by deposit in the United States mail in a sealed envelope, postage prepaid, addressed to such person to be notified, at his last known business or residence address as the same appears in the public records or other records pertaining to the matters to which such notice is directed. Service by mail shall be deemed to have been completed at the time of deposit in the post office.

1.04.250. Proof of service. Proof of giving any notice may be made by the certificate of any officer or employee of this County or by affidavit of any person over the age of eighteen years, which shows service in conformity with this code or other provisions of law applicable to the subject matter concerned.

1.04.260 Notice to appear. If any person is arrested for a violation of any ordinance of the County of Marin and such person is not immediately taken before a magistrate as prescribed in the state penal code, the arresting officer shall prepare in triplicate a written notice to appear in court containing the name and address of such person, the offense charged and the place and time where and when such person shall appear in court. The time specified in the notice to appear must be at least five days after such arrest. The place specified in such notice shall be either:

(1) Before a Judge of a Justice Court or of a Municipal Court within this County who has jurisdiction of the offense charged and who is nearest and most accessible with reference to the place where the arrest is made, or

(2) Upon demand of the arrested person, before a Judge of the Municipal Court at the county seat of this County, or before a Judge in the Judicial District within which the offense is alleged to have been committed.

1.04.270 Signing notice conditional to release. The officer shall deliver one copy of the notice to appear to the arrested person, and the arrested person in order to secure release must give his written promise to so appear in court by signing the duplicate notice which shall be retained by the officer. Thereupon the arresting officer shall forthwith release the person arrested from custody.

1.04.280 Deposit and forfeiture of bail. The officer shall, as soon as practicable, file said duplicate notice with the magistrate aforesaid. Thereupon the magistrate shall fix the amount of bail which in his judgment, in accordance with the penal code, will be reasonable and sufficient for the appearance of the defendant, and shall endorse upon said notice a statement signed by him in the form set forth in the penal code. The defendant may, prior to the date upon which he promised to appear in court, deposit with the magistrate the amount of bail thus set. Thereafter, at the time when the case is called for arraignment before the magistrate, if the defendant shall not appear, either in person or by counsel, the magistrate may declare the bail forfeited, and may in his discretion order that no further proceedings shall be had in such case. Upon the making of such order all sums deposited as bail shall be paid into the city treasury.

1.04.290 When warrant shall issue. No warrant shall issue on such charge for the arrest of a person who has given such written promise to appear, unless and until he has violated such promise or has failed to deposit bail, to appear for arraignment, trial or judgment, or to comply with the terms and provisions of the judgment, as required by law.

1.04.300 Complaints. Whenever written notice to appear has been prepared, delivered and filed with the court as herein provided, said notice shall, notwithstanding the provisions of the penal code, constitute a complaint to which the defendant may plead "guilty". If, however, the defendant shall violate his promise to appear, or shall not deposit bail, or shall plead other than "guilty" to the offense charged, a complaint shall be filed which shall conform to the provisions of the penal code, and which shall be deemed to be an original complaint, and thereafter proceedings shall be had as provided by law; provided, that a defendant may, in person or by counsel in open court, waive the filing of a verified complaint and elect that the prosecution proceed upon the written notice to appear.

1.04.310 Failure to appear declared misdemeanor. Any person wilfully violating his written promise to appear in court as herein provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor, regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested.

1.04.320 Penalty for violation of Sections 1.04.260 through 1.04.310. Any person violating any of the provisions of Sections 1.04.260 through 1.04.310 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty (30) days after its passage, and before the expiration of fifteen (15) days after its passage shall be published in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin, with the names of the members voting for or against the same.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin held on the 9th day of March, 1965, by the following vote:

Corte Madera Garbage Plan Is On Agenda

A garbage agreement and ordinance will be proposed to the Corte Madera Town Council at the meeting at 8 p.m. today at the town hall.

The agreement, for a new franchise to replace the one which expires in June, will set rates and also increase the payment to the town for the franchise privilege to more than five times the present $600 annual payment.

Mill Valley refuse service proposes to raise rates for home pick-up and small business service and to extend the area covered by a higher hillside rate. The council will have to set the final rates.

Councilmen will discuss new plans for the lower floor of the town hall in a proposed remodeling, and will set a date for a joint meeting with the board of the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

500,000 Americans Are Victims Of Disease Multiple Sclerosis

VAN DELLEN

Approximately 500,000 Americans have multiple sclerosis. Most victims are between 18 and 40 years of age. Many are working because symptoms are temporary and there may be long period of freedom from the disease.

The cause is not known but many victims develop symptoms following a period of poor health, fatigue, injury, illness with fever, or pregnancy. The term multiple is used because many parts of the nervous system are involved. The sheath of the nerve is afflicted initially. Ensuing symptoms are transient so long as the center fibers are able to transmit impulses. There is no recovery after the core is destroyed and replaced with scar tissue. This explains why symptoms come and go and ultimately become permanent except in some who do not have an attack for so long a time they are regarded as cured.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS is difficult to recognize initially because there is no specific symtom or sign that offers a clue. In addition, the disease differs from patient to patient. What happens to one may not happen to another. Some develop periods of partial to complete paralysis of the legs and arms or trunk. Others lack coordination or suffer tremor of the extremities, head, or body. Numbness and tingling are noted. Painful muscle spasms occur.

Ocular involvement is common, including temporary or permanent blindness in one or both eyes. There may be difficulty in speech as well as bowel or bladder control. But despite these adversities, the majority usually are cheerful and continue to have hope and optimism.

THERE IS NO specific remedy. The best advice is to eat nutritious meals, obtain ample rest, and avoid overfatigue. It is important to maintain a high degree of resistance and avoid people with respiratory infections. Extremes in temperature may precipitate an attack. Physiotherapy (heat and massage) relieves muscle spasticity and improves coordination.

Drug therapy, including the use of antibiotics, vitamins, vasodilators, histamine, cortisone, and isoniazid, is of questionable value.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

Theater For Children Set In Mill Valley

Registration for youngsters wishing to participate in the Valley Children's Theater will be held from 10 a.m. to noon March 30 at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Homestead Improvement Club and the Homestead Players are sponsors of the theater's 12-week sessions for children aged four to 13.

Marion Hayes Cain, founder and director of the Magic Circle productions at Marin Art and Garden Center and active in Junior Theater in Marin since 1948, will lead the session.

Classes will be held on Thursdays, starting April 1, at Brown's Hall.

Marinite Wins Airline's Cash

Kemp, a mechanic at United Air Lines' engineering and maintenance center south of San Francisco, recently received $845 for suggesting a less expensive method of installing seat belts on aircraft.

In December, he was awarded $915 by the airline for a suggestion which resulted in standardizing all seat belts in the company's aircraft.

Testimonial Lunch Set For Mrs. Gatov

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Gatov of Kentfield will be honored at a testimonial lunch at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel.

Mrs. Gatov, treasurer of the United States under President John F. Kennedy, resigned March 6 as Democratic national committee-woman from California after 11 years in office.

Planning Appeal Due City Council

An appeal by Marin County from a decision by the San Rafael Planning Commission is to be heard by the San Rafael City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today.

The planning commission on Feb. 9 approved a map for Twelveoak Hill Unit 5 along Lucas Valley Road. The county planning department and representatives of Marinwood residents asked that the developer, Marin Master Builders, be required to dedicate 2.1 acres of the proposed subdivision lying between the old and new alignments of Lucas Valley Road. The county's appeal seeks to add that requirement to the subdivision aproval.

The appelants propose the land be preserved as a park.

Public hearing is to be held also on the Francisco Boulevard Assessment District, and legal papers to put the San Rafael Cayes Unit 1 Assessment District into being are to be presented.

Acceptance of the deed was Nunes Park in the Terra Linda annexation is scheduled. The city has bought the park site for $32,500.

There will be no action, however, on a much larger park—Freitas Memorial Park, also in the Terra Linda annexation. Although the Freitas Estate has offered about 60 acres as a gift to the city, it wishes to retain the land until a land use study of adjacent Freitas properties is completed by Welton Beckett and Associates, according to City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen.

Ordinances rezoning a portion of Glenwood, the Terra Linda annexation and Loch Lomond Highlands will be up for adoption.

San Rafael councilmen will have before them a request from the Tiburon City Council that they join Tiburon in opposing a second Bay crossing from the Tiburon Peninsula to San Francisco.

Salary Schedules On Fairfax School List

Review of salary schedules and a report on the foreign language program in the Fairfax School District are scheduled for the district board meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at Manor School.

Homer Sisk, district superintendent, will report on school site acquisition.

Firemen's Tradition

The San Anselmo Fire Department will have its annual corned beef dinner at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the main fire station.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Good Burlesque In Danny's Show

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Danny Thomas, whose NBC-TV specials this season have really been special, offered a one-hour dandy last night: A fond remembrance of burlesque in the days when it presented fine singers, dancers and comedians.

He was assisted by three top-flight guest stars: Mickey Rooney, Lee Remick and Jim Nabors, who is a smash ratings success in the new series "Gomer Pyle" as a naive good-hearted, falsetto-voiced hillbilly Marine. Nabors was easily the show-stopper last night with his powerful, excellent and manly singing voice as he sang a well-known Pagliacci passage and a World War I tune.

There were also a number of unbilled celebrities in the comedy routines — Frank Sinatra, Jack Benny, Dean Martin, Carl Reiner, Andy Griffith, Don Knotts, Edie Adams and Sheldon Leonard among them—and this was one of those rare times when surprising guest shots actually helped the result.

Many of the gags and routines were absolutely hoary, of course, but the nostalgic and engaging flavor of the hour made them seem just right. A sample of the comedy was the fellow carrying a case past a man and telling him "I'm taking my case to court," and then later returning with a coat hanger, saying, "I lost my suit."

It was good to hear Thomas put in some kind words for dialect comedy, which sadly has all but passed from the entertainment scene, partly because of the sensitivity of too many groups. There was a richness of Americana in this type of comedy which stemmed from an aspect of national pride, the diversity of the origins of the country's immigrant settlers.

ABC-TV served up another exciting David Wolper documentary Saturday night: "The Bold Men," an hour of capsule studies of fellows who risk death in their jobs, or for science or just for kicks. The chief fault with the show was that some of the studies were far too capsulized and shallow and merely sensational, and could have been left out so that others might have been expanded for depth—but sensational or not in approach, the hour was truly gripping and fascinating very often.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Film Director William Wyler is a guest on NBC-TV's "Today" show Wednesday . . . Sammy Cahn, composer of the Oscar-nominated songs "Where Love Has Gone" and "My Kind of Town, Chicago Is," visits the same program Thursday.

Tomales Druids Plan Easter Seal Boost

The annual benefit pancake and sausage breakfast, sponsored by Tomales Grove 83 of the Ancient Order of Druids, will be held from 7 a.m. to noon March 28 at the Tomales Town Hall.

Proceeds from the breakfast will be given to the Easter Seal campaign for crippled children and adults, according to Joseph Tremari and Anthony Matulich, co-chairmen.

Dance Classes To Begin Friday

Two creative dance classes for pre-schoolers to third graders will start Friday at the United Jewish Community Center, 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

The first session of the 10-week series will be held from 3:15 to 4 p.m. for four and five-year-olds. First through third graders will have their class from 4 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Hannah Nunn of San Anselmo will be the instructor.

Travelogue Film Due On Campus

A color film, "Scandinavian Summer" will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday in Olney Hall at College of Marin in Kentfield by the associated students of the college and thee Explorers Club of San Francisco.

Narrating the film will be Arthur Dewey, the photographer. The motion picture will include scenes in Norway, Sweden and Denmark.
